MIDWIVES STRIKE FOR BETTER PAY

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

Midwives at Dorset County Hospital have taken strike action for the first time in the history of the Royal College.

Standing on a picket line at the Dorchester hospital on Monday several warned that the strike decision was indicative of how angry they have become over falling living standards.

And they claim that the 'work to rule' which will continue until the end of this Thursday, will probably cause more disruption than the morning four-hour stoppage in which only staff not on front-line duty were involved.

"We have deliberately not affected mothers about to give birth or those already on the maternity ward, but working to contract will make people realise just how much extra time and effort we put in – effectively for no pay," said one of the midwives.

Around twenty pickets were at the hospital's main road entrance, off Williams Avenue, throughout the stoppage, frequently getting hoots from passing motorists and waves or shouts of encouragement.

The action also involved porters, ward assistants, health care workers and other staff in a 7am to 11pm stoppage.

Tara Putt, local spokesperson for the Royal College of Midwives said: "Today is the first day in our 133-year history that we have voted to take industrial action and that's a sign of how under-valued we feel. The decision has not been taken lightly and shows the level of frustration and the message that 'enough is enough' and we deserve a pay rise."

The Government has offered a 1 per cent rise, or a pre-agreed incremental experience rise, but not both.

The industrial action came after months of campaigning by local health workers, and others, over the hospital's proposal to put the pathology laboratory at the hospital out to contract.

Last week the County Hospital NHS Foundation Trust Board agreed with a recommendation from an internal expert group to develop its own pathology service instead, investing an extra £100,000 in the service.

Trust Chairman Dr Jeffrey Ellwood said: "With NHS funding under tremendous pressure it is incumbent on the Board of DCH to ensure that services provided are of high quality, are safe and provide value for money for taxpayers and if we didn't, we would be negligent in our duty.

"It is not surprising therefore that the Board decided to benchmark DCH pathology services against other pathology service providers.

"We followed strict National Health Service procurement rules to ensure the final outcome had integrity."

Trust Chief Executive Patricia Miller added: "I believe our in-house service will now go from strength to strength and I want to pay tribute to our staff for their leadership and professionalism during the tendering process."

Campaigners greeted the decision by Dorset County Hospital's board not to transfer the hospital's pathol-

Wind farm planning application

Broadview Energy has submitted a planning application for its proposed Slyer's Lane wind farm on the outskirts of Dorchester.

The application to West Dorset District Council comprises of six, 115m high wind turbines, between the County Town and Charminster.

A local action group and the Dorset branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England, have said they will fight the proposal.

Further details in next week's View from Dorchester.

NIKI McCretton lives in Bridport and is the owner of the Lyric Theatre in Barrack Street and the Stuff and Nonsense Theatre Company.

She trained as a performer in Circus and Dance at school in Bristol, which is now called Circomedia that trains performers in contemporary circus and physical theatre.

She specialised in aerial arts, unicycling and physical comedy and clowning.

Niki then went on to do a degree in contemporary dance at Coventry University.

She has worked professionally as a performing artist for 25 years and tours her shows internationally as well as in the UK.

Now she studies with teachers to keep my skills up and now teaches others these skills at her summer school, BACstage.

● HOW long have you been the owner of the Lyric Theatre in Barrack Street?

I brought the Lyric in 2011 as a place for performing artists to create and present their work.

● WHY did you decide to buy the Lyric Theatre?

I have been making work in various theatres over the years, most recently being the Resident Artist at Lighthouse in Poole.

I was renting a studio also at St Michael's Trading Estate and when the Lyric came up, various people in the town suggested that I would be the right person to take it on.

I took quite a bit of convincing! But it is a great base for my company, Stuff and Nonsense, and also means that other performers come here to work with me and I am keen to build a strong community of performance here.

We already have a great visual arts scene and the Lyric means I can invite performers to come and use the space to create their work.

● COULD you tell us more about the shows you perform?

I make a variety of productions – some are for children and families – I have a reputation for making good work for families and love creating stories that will genuinely enable everyone to have a great time.

I also make work as a solo artist that is aimed at adults – I like making autobiographical work and have won awards in the US and Canada for some of these.

I also dabble with stand up comedy. I have just started work on a new piece which I received a commission to start the research part of it, it is about post traumatic stress disorder, and uses video, puppetry and roller skating.

● YOU are also a member of a group called Dorset Roller Girls, could you tell us a bit more about that?

I joined the team as a beginner last June. The Dorset Roller Girls meet in Bournemouth twice a week and are a great team – doing really well in competitions and are super friendly.

Roller Derby is a women's contact sport, which started in the 1920s in the US and is becoming very popular here in the UK. It is a sport that involves highly skilled skating and is very tactical and physical and played on a circuit.

People from all walks of life and all ages join and we have a fantastic woman that coaches us too. We have recently started a men's team in Dorset called The Dorset Knobs. Look us up on Facebook!

● WHAT are you currently working on?

I'm currently creating a show at the Lyric with my company Stuff and Nonsense Theatre Company, which goes on tour then to Theatre Royal in Plymouth for seven weeks over Christmas.

It is a modern adaptation of Goldilocks and the three bears.

● What do you like doing in your spare time?

Roller Derby is my holiday. I love roller-skating and I am also learning to work on ramps on my skates at The Trick Factory (an indoor skatepark) in Bridport.

● WHAT three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

I would invite Danny Kaye, Spike Milligan and Captain Alan Bean, one of the Apollo astronauts who walked on the moon.

● WHAT is the scariest/most exciting thing to ever happen to you?

Learning Roller Derby. It is exhilarating, exciting and scary too as it is such a fast and difficult sport. I am very proud to be a member of this great group.

Beware heating oil theft: use deterrents

DORCHESTER police have issued advice to those who use heating oil after the theft of oil from a tank at Frampton.

The police say tank owners should take a look at their security at a time when they are likely to be filling their tanks up for the winter period.

Their suggestions include -

• Alarm your tank, or the location of your tank.

• Consider the vulnerability of your tank's location.

• Consider CCTV.

• Add dye – dark dye will be easily detectable by routine police checks of vehicles, lowering the attraction of using heating oil for vehicle fuel.

• Consider security lighting, controlled from your house.

• Gravel, defensive planting and fencing or caging can deter thieves.

• Install fuel tanks within a building – fuel tanks within buildings can be less vulnerable, but note appropriate regulations.

• Join Neighbourhood/Home Watch to receive regular updates about local crime.

• Regularly check fuel levels.

Further advice is available by contacting the local safer neighbourhood team by calling 101.

with relief and praise for the Board at making the right decision.

"We believe this is the right decision for the people of Dorset and for the long term future of the hospital. Pathology is at the centre of a well-functioning hospital.

We were particularly worried about the long term impact of the lab being passed over to a private provider, not just because of the distance it might have involved but because of the potential risk in quality and of increase in costs which have often occurred with past privatisations.

We would like to thank the thousands of people who signed our petition, many of whom have agreed to sign the pledge to write to their MP to protest about the privatisation of the NHS. This is one small battle won but we still need to be vigilant because winning one battle is not winning the war, and there will be other services under threat in the future.'

■ Traffic flows in High East Street still causing problems, but funding may now be reduced

Delays in decision-making lead to loss of funds

MORE than £1.5million could be lost to Dorchester after failure to reach agreement on traffic improvements for the town centre.

Attempts have been made for more than six months to come up with a plan which would reduce pollution in High West and High East streets without making conditions worse elsewhere.

But talks and meetings have failed to come up with a solution which would win widespread support, and a compromise solution of improving traffic flows in both streets is now the most likely option. This would include 'smart' traffic lights and better junction layouts.

Around £5million was earmarked for Dorchester by the County Council but now almost £1.6million of that could be lost from the project and put back into the county-wide transportation budget.

Final decision on the future of the traffic scheme is expected to be made at the County Council Cabinet meeting in December.

Young super-sleuths get their rewards

THE winners of the Dorchester Super Sleuth Competition were presented with their prizes recently.

The competition for young people was organised by Dorchester's Business Improvement District during the summer to encourage visits to shops and attractions across the town, as well as providing educational entertainment for families.

One of the winners, Artie Ennion, who picked up a £40 shopping voucher in the Under 10 section said: "I am going to share the prize with Isaac and Clem (his brother and sister) as we all looked for the flags together. We had such a good time doing this and it's a great way of seeing Dorchester. All the shops and restaurants were really friendly."

The 11-16 winners were: first, Jessica Crate; second, Dilys Goodridge; third, Charles Bone.

Age 10 and under winners were: first, Matilda & Neve Dodds; second Artie Ennion and third, Adam Gravelle.

Organiser Phil Gordon, from Dorchester BID thanked Wise Owl Toys, Toymaster, Dorchester Aquatics, Jordans Jewellers, AutoBitz, Fantasy Flowers Odeon Cinema and the Imperial Garden who all added extra prizes for the winners.

Help coping with long term health problems

ONE-to-one coaching and groups courses are available in Dorchester in the coming days to help support people with a long term health condition.

My Health My Way is a new NHS service which can help people overcome some of the challenges of having a long term health condition. Coaches can work on a one to one basis, or with a group and courses running in Dorchester this autumn.

The course has been designed by people living with health conditions themselves to help you develop your confidence, knowledge and skills to deal with day-to-day challenges. The course is free, and covers issues such as dealing with fatigue, low mood, pain, making changes to our diets, communication and support.

It is being held at Dorset Youth Association, Lubbecke Way, Dorchester, Dorset, on Wednesday afternoons 2pm to 4.30pm on October 22nd, 29th, November 5th, 12th, 19th and 26th.

To book a place or find out more, call (at local rates) 0303 303 0153, email info@myhealthdorset.org.uk, or visit www.myhealthdorset.org.uk

Wide variations in hospital care

HEALTHWATCH Dorset has found a wide variation in the standard of care from feedback gathered from patients of Dorset's hospitals.

The independent health and care watchdog has collected feedback on services from patients at Dorset County Hospital, The Royal Bournemouth Hospital, Poole Hospital and the Community Hospitals across the county.

The report, "Every One Matters", shows widely varying experience of care delivered throughout the hospitals.

Manager of Healthwatch Dorset, Martyn Webster, commented on the report: "The variation in care matters not only because it means some people receive poor care but also because it strikes at the founding principle of the NHS that every single person should receive the best care. In fact, some do not."

Feedback on the hospitals included positive praise such as: "Staff were cheerful and caring. I was amazed by the efficiency of the unit," and "I was treated with the utmost kindness and courtesy."

But more negative responses included: "We felt frustrated and abandoned," and "The ward was understaffed. There weren't enough staff to treat patients safely or even with dignity."

Said Mr Webster: "The experiences that people have shared with us show that there is still work to be done to ensure that every single patient receives the best possible care.

We urge the hospitals to listen to, and take on board, people's experiences that we highlight in this report, and to review their own systems and methods for gathering and responding to people's feedback.

We should judge the hospitals by how good they are at spotting when things go wrong, how quickly they put things right and how well they manage not to do it again."

Herringston Road to close for five days

ONE of Dorchester's 'rat run' roads is to close from this Friday, 17th, until next Tuesday, October 21st, for maintenance and resurfacing works.

Part of Herringston Road, close to the Hospice, will be closed to traffic from 9am to 4pm. The road is a popular short cut to bypass traffic which builds up on Weymouth Avenue at peak times.

The closure will affect a 700-metre stretch from the junction with Maumbury Road to outside the Winterbourne Hospital.

Engineers say that if the weather is favourable the closure may not last the full five days.

Pelican embraces pirates

CREW on board the TS Pelican, Weymouth's tall ship, are looking forward to welcoming members of the public on board on Saturday 1st November to celebrate Weymouth's second Pirate Festival.

The ship will be open to the public from 10am to 4pm where crew will be offering tea and coffee in the ship's Mess.

Informative and exciting tours of the ship will also be available with talks about the history of the vessel and her uses today.

During the day there will be entertainment on the quayside and on board the ship.

This includes members of the Dorset Buccaneers, Poole Re-enactment Society, The River Rogues and others who will be re-enacting pirate battles on the quayside throughout the day. They will be in full pirate attire and full of enthusiasm and mischief. Local sea shanty singers, the Dorset Wrecks, will be singing on deck in the afternoon, with Danny Adams also performing on board during the day.

Below deck author Adrian Beckingham will be reading excerpts from his pirate-themed books for members of the public to enjoy.

Donations to the charity Adventure Under Sail, which operates the tall ship, will be taken at the gangway.

And for a truly pirate experience, there is also limited accommodation available on board the ship on the evenings of 31st October and 1st November for anyone coming to Weymouth for the Pirate Festival.

Hopes rise for Tourist Information Centre

WEYMOUTH might once again have a Tourist Information Centre, but discussion is still at a very early stage.

The latest situation according to Weymouth and Portland tourism spokesman Councillor Rachel Rogers is that the council is holding talks with a number of partners.

She added: "Those talks are about the provision of a full TIC service with a view to offering an improved service in time for summer 2015.

"However, no agreement has yet been reached and celebration is, therefore, somewhat premature."

She added that, in order to fully understand the provision of tourist information in Weymouth and Portland, it was important to recognise the difference between a tourist information centre and a tourist information point

"The former are advertised venues with regular opening hours and trained staff who may include volunteers while the latter are housed in venues which have a different primary purpose and enable visitors to access a non-standardised selection of information.

"The TIC in Weymouth was moved from the Esplanade to the Pavilion back in 2010 and was later closed following the budgetary decision of full council in early 2013.

"The absence of a TIC in Weymouth has been raised repeatedly since I took over as tourism briefholder at the end of May.

"It is true that a council-funded service might be viewed as a taxpayer subsidy to the tourist industry, but there is no doubt that the industry forms a significant part of the borough's wider economy, benefiting a large section of the community. In consequence, the council is in discussion with a number of partners about provision of a full TIC service."

Transition together to a greener future

A FREE programme to help cut waste and spend better is being offered in Dorchester by Transition Together.

Taking place in the evening of October 20th the event will help get to grips with energy, water, food and transport bills. The meeting starts at 7pm at the Quaker Meeting House.

The Transition Together programme began in Totnes and has spread around the UK and the world. It involves simple practical tools that have helped thousands to save money on fuel bills, reduce wastefulness and make new friends.

Those who have taken part have saved an average of £400 on annual bills, claim the organisers.

Transition Together has been made available in Dorset by volunteers from Transition Town Dorchester, who have received special training and ensured the content is relevant to Dorset, and Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset, (CLS).

Emily Bullock, of CLS in Dorset, says, "Transition Together is a really good tool to help people to Live Differently, the theme of this year's One World Week (19th-26th October). We have a few interested people already, and hope to get several groups going in Dorchester, so do come along and see if it is for you."

Heavenly church silver on display

AN EXHIBITION of church silver has opened at the Dorset County Museum.

It offers the chance to see some of the finest pieces from Dorset and the UK, some of it normally locked in bank vaults for safe keeping.

The exhibition in the Victorian Gallery tells the story of Christianity for over 2000 years, from Pre-Reformation times to the present day.

Dorset appears to have had a strong Christian community as far back as Roman times. An example of this tradition is a Roman spoon from Dorc'ester with the 'fish' Christian cipher.

The exhibition also has three pieces of church silver from the 16th century - including the Coombe Keynes Chalice which has been said by the Victoria and Albert Museum to be one of the finest in the country.

The work of 18th century silversmith Paul de Lamerie, generally accepted as the greatest silversmith of the time, is featured in the exhibition with one of the three silver-gilt communion sets made by de Lamerie for Dorset churches. There is also a letter, dated June 1737, which records instructions on how to clean the silver as directed by Paul de Lamerie, himself.

"This exhibition contains some of the finest pieces of church silverware in the country," said Jon Murden, Director of Dorset County Museum. "We are grateful to all the Dorset parishes which have loaned items for us to display. We hope many people will be able to see these hidden treasures before they go back into safe storage."

In addition to silver chalices, patens and flagons, there are other fascinating items including a rare bread knife for cutting communion bread. Accompanying the exhibition is a booklet describing Dorset's ecclesiastical silver and the development of Christianity in Dorset since the 4th century.

Du Maurier war play reading at musuem

A DRAMATIC play reading provides the final event associated with Dorset County Museum's current exhibition, A Dorset Woman at War.

This evening, October 16th, The New Hardy Players will be reading a play originally published in 1909. An Englishman's Home caused a sensation when it came out anonymously under the name, A Patriot. It later came known to be the work of Captain Guy du Maurier, a British officer.

An uncle to Daphne du Maurier, his play was said to have influenced her famous novel, The Birds. An Englishman's Home went on to be a long-running success and was later made into a film.

"This play was politically provocative and deliberately designed to frighten its audiences," says Jon Murden, director of Dorset County Museum. "Writers like du Maurier were frequently criticised as scaremongers by leading politicians of the day. Unfortunately they were proved right when the First World War broke out."

The semi-staged play will be performed with some costumes and props and is set almost entirely in the sitting room of a suburban house in Essex.

It tells the story of a fictional attack on England by an unknown enemy.

The story, which came at a time of increasing tension between Britain and Germany, served to highlight the unreadiness of Britain to repel an attack and was credited with boosting army recruitment in the years immediately prior to World War I. It also influenced Mabel Stobart, the subject of the Museum's current 'Dorset Woman at War' exhibition.

Tickets for the play reading cost £7 and include a complimentary glass of wine or a soft drink. The event starts at 7.30pm. Tickets are available from the Museum Shop on 01305 756827.

Apple day in Kingston Maurward's new glasshouses

KINGSTON Maurward's annual Harvest and Apple Day is being held this weekend.

The Saturday (18th) event will be held around the college's new state of the art horticultural glasshouses from 10am to 4pm.

Visitors can expect talks from plant experts, floral displays, trade stands, practical demonstrations, children's activities including making vegetable creatures, an apple shy, and build a bat or bird box, plus wreath making and willow weaving .

There will also be beekeeping advice, blacksmithing demonstrations, plants and apple trees for sale with tips about planting and pruning in Autumn, and advice on propagation techniques. Viva choir will sing songs for autumn and Harvest time.

Local schoolchildren have been invited to enter a competition to win a day out in the Gardens and Animal Park for their whole class, making traditional Green Man masks and artwork to be judged during Harvest Day via a public vote.

The popular cake baking competition returns - visitors are encouraged to bring homemade cakes using the recipe of their choice to be judged by gastronomic experts. Entries must be taken to the glasshouses by 10.30am on the day of the competition.

Cakes must be displayed on a china plate with the recipe written beside it on A5 size card with name and contact details on the back. There will be a prize for the most delicious cake.

News in brief...

■ DORSET County Council is spending more than £14million a year on energy bills – up by £1million on the 2009 figure.

The authority has failed to meet its own target to reduce carbon emissions, producing an estimated 48,118 tonnes and making it one of the biggest polluters in the county. The figure is down by around 9 per cent over the five years but it has a 30 per cent target to reach by 2020. More than 20 projects have been identified to help get the figures down by 11,475 tonnes, including making better use of buildings.

■ THE Dorchester Coeliac support group will present a talk from Dr Tim Robinson on 'Food Allergy or Food Intolerance?' at the Dorford Centre at 7pm today, Wednesday, October 15th.

The evening lecture costs £1 which includes refreshments.

■ A LIMITED number of places remain for a course in Dorchester offered by the Workers' Educational Association (WEA) on November 8th, looking at Dorset's plant diversity.

All the courses are held at the Dorford Centre, Bridport Road. Enquiries about course booking should be made to Anne Jonathan on 01305 269510 or online @ www.wea.org.uk.

■ Volunteers are welcome to join Transition Town Dorchester volunteers on two Sundays in October at the Community Farm.

The events will take place on the 19th and 26th from 10am to 3pm with a range of tasks on offer.

■ DORCHESTER Martial Arts club members

Amputees charity to gain from Jiu Jitsu marathon

A 24-HOUR martial arts marathon hopes to raise more than £500 for a forces charity.

Those taking part in the event at the Dorchester Martial Arts Club sparred around the clock from 10am on Saturday taking part in five-minute rounds of Brazilian Jiu Jitsu.

"There are a core of eight of us throughout with others who joined in when they can," said organiser Luke Mannion.

The proceeds will go to Pilgrim Bandits, a charity that helps forces amputees – chosen by Luke after he spent seven years in the parachute regiment.

The club offers both group and individual coaching sessions in a wide variety of the martial arts.

Caravan-dweller finally gets council's attention

An 85-year-old woman who parked her caravan home outside the council offices in Dorchester has been found temporary accommodation.

Joyce Bycroft, 85, spent three days outside the District Council offices in a battered caravan to highlight her claim for housing.

The council said it was unable to discuss the case but had been working with other agencies to resolve the situation.

Mrs Bycroft had previously been staying since April at a local touring site near Cerne Abbas but had to leave when it closed for the winter.

Mrs Bycroft said she had been relying on pension credit to help her, but had not been able to establish when, if at all, she was likely to receive any money.

Director of communities at West Dorset District Council, Kate Ryan, said: "We are pleased to confirm that Mrs Bycroft has accepted temporary accommodation while her case is being reviewed. We are working with a number of agencies to find a solution."

Fatal crash on A35: police seek witnesses

THE main road between Dorchester and Bridport was closed for five hours on Monday after a crash in which one man died and two others were left with life-threatening injuries.

A 47-year-old man from Nottinghamshire was declared dead after the two car collision a mile west of Winterbourne Abbas shortly after 8am. He was driving a silver Rover in which two other people, a man and a woman from the Yeovil area, were seriously injured.

The driver of the other car, a 20-year-old from Bridport driving a Daihatsu 4x4, was taken to Southampton General Hospital suffering internal and spinal injuries.

Fire crews from Dorchester used hydraulic cutting equipment to release two casualties from the cars.

Diversions were put in place while emergency services dealt with the dead and injured and police accident investigators then spent four hours examining the crash scene.

The main road was closed for more than five and a half hours only reopening at 1.30pm.

Traffic Inspector Colin Bell said: "I am appealing for anyone who witnessed this collision or the manner of driving of the Daihatsu or the Rover prior to the collision to contact investigating officer PC 738 Redmond on 101 quoting incident number 13:45.

"The road was closed for five hours to allow investigators to carry out a full and thorough examination of the complex scene. I would like to thank motorists for their patience."

Cost of children in care £2m over budget again

SPENDING on children in the care of Dorset Social Services has been £2million over budget for the past two years.

The number of children in care has risen from 276 in March 2010, to 347 in March 2014. A report, published this week, says too many came into care too late and many stayed in care too long.

Auditors discovered that half of children studied were not taken in to care when they should have been with some staying in unhappy homes for two years more than they should have done.

The report also highlights how some social workers do not know the cost of care – ranging from £198 to more than £5,600 a week.

Director of Children's Services, Sara Tough, says there should be a review of services which deal with problems outside normal office hours and increased funding for prevention work.

But she told county councillors that she understood why social workers were not concentrating only on the financial costs of care: "We have fantastic social workers who are dedicated to the work they do and we need to help them gain awareness of financial issues, It's not something that they focus on because they spend a lot of their time focused on making the right decision for the child.

"But we need to ensure when they make decisions on placements, we consider the cost attached to that placement.

Mental-health awarness drama

DORCHESTER Art Centre has hosted a pilot training event on brain power and mental well-being.

The event was a collaboration between Phoenix Legacy, a local voluntary community group, TakeArt, an arts charity group and Training for Results.

'Play on Your Mind' mixes drama and training to show local employers how the quality of their thinking will determine the future quality of the business. It also makes them more aware of their responsibilities to protect the mental well-being of their staff and promotes the support agencies available to help them do this.

Twenty four people attended the event from the private, public and voluntary sector as a taster of a full one day event planned for later this year.

"The feedback we have had is fantastic. We can now make sure the full event meets the needs of the community. It has highlighted we have two products, one for the employer; and one to help people with mental health issues to take a more pro-active role in their future recovery."

Rosie Barfoot, creator of this event and Founder of the Phoenix Legacy explained; "What this pilot taught us was how hard it is to get employers to focus on mental health rather than performance. The great outcome is that four organisations that attended the taster have committed to write a mental health policy and three have said they will sign up to Time to Change."

Rosie suggests that if people are concerned about their mental health to speak to a GP or Dorset Mental Health Forum on Dorchester (01305) 257172.

Learn to control your moods

A FREE event at Dorchester Library this weekend will teach techniques to control our moods.

"I'm in the Mood" on Saturday, October 18th from 12- 4 pm is a collaborative event between the library service and the Phoenix Legacy.

The event includes a free workshop on Beat Your Mood with Vanda North, from Bournemouth, who is an author and international speaker. She will be showing you how you can change your mood for the better.

There are other workshops on creative writing, poetry writing and public speaking by local experts.

Portland Philosophy Cafe members will also be in the library to help share your thoughts.

The event also sees the finals of the Dorset Writers Network flash fiction competition, when you can hear the ten finalists and find out who is the winner. Casterbridge Speakers Club will also be giving a demonstration of speeches.

A stroll along the Ridgeway

■ Dorchester strollers on the Ridgeway

DESPITE bad weather a small group of Dorchester Strollers was joined by Jill Hearing of the Dorset Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, South Dorset Ridgeway Project and Steve Wallis, Senior Archaeologist, Dorset County Council.

By walking up the bridleway from near Max Gate towards the woods and then along the permissive path at the top of the field, Steve was able to point out Mount Pleasant and talk about the Conygar barrows.

Turning down the footpath to the road across from Winterbourne Herringston to Winterbourne Came, we heard about the deserted medieval village of Winterbourne Farringdon and saw the remains of St German's Church.

Later Steve talked about Came House and Jill talked about the South Winterbourne stream project before the group turned up the hill and back down to Max Gate - and then along to The Trumpet Major for refreshments.

For a Dorchester Strollers programme phone 01305 263759 or pick up a programme at the Dorchester Tourist Information Centre.

■ DORSET Red Cross holds its annual Country House Fair at Lulworth Castle on Thursday, October 16th, between 10am – 3.30pm. Entrance costs £3 (including access to the castle and chapel) and is free for children.

■ ROTARY Club is appealing for help with its annual raffle.

The fund-raiser offers £500 for the first prize and a number of other cash prizes.

Rotary prints the tickets and carries out the legal licencing obligations, and then offers any suitable organisation an opportunity to have books of tickets and sell them.

Early in the New Year, an event is held during which all the cash from the organisations is handed back to them.

Rotary already has about 30 organisations signed up and would welcome others to join.

This year 40,000 tickets are being printed.

To participate, email Alec Bailey at bailey.wabbas@tesco.net or phone him on Dorchester (01305) 889454.

■ SALVATION Army has opened a second charity shop in Dorchester.

They have taken over the former CRY shop on the corner of Trinity Street, just yards from their existing shop.

Town and district councillor Molly Rennie cut a ribbon to declare the new venture open.

The new building has a self-service café on the first floor and a community space which will be used as a meeting place for a seniors' day, twice a week from 10am to 3pm with board games and, on three days a week, it will be used for craft work and 'upcycling.'

The centre will also have a quiet room.

Thomas Hardye's festival proves science is fun

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

HUNDREDS visited Thomas Hardye's Family Festival of Science at the weekend.

Displays, demonstrations and many chances to get 'hands on' were popular with young and old alike.

The school's senior pupils and staff proved, during the open afternoon, that science is fun with help from local universities and organisations including the Jurassic Coast Heritage team, Butterfly Conservation and Dorset Police who surprised motorists approaching the school who found their speed being checked as officers demonstrated the science of their equipment.

All of the activities were free with queues building up at time for some of the more popular attractions.

Amongst the biology and environment attractions were a collection of stick insects brought to the festival by teacher Andy Sammons, who was keen to point out how they can be masters of disguise, including the larger 'Sunny' (Sungaya) stick insects he posed with for our photograph to the tiny insects, less than an inch long, which look just like a curled leaf.

"I can't put them in together because they might eat each other," said Andy.

Visitors were also able to construct a wind turbine and try out a 'green' car while Matila Bark, the Litter Free Coast and Sea Coordinator for the Dorset Coast Forum took the opportunity to press home the importance of not creating marine pollution.

Rotary encourages young chefs

DORCHESTER Casterbridge Rotary Club has presented the Thomas Hardye School with 50 aprons as part of their support of the school and the annual Rotary Young Chef competition.

President of the Club, John Adams, said: "Our members particularly enjoy working with Thomas Hardye students. We are looking forward to the next round of the 'Young Chef' competition when one student to be selected from the school will compete, hopefully, all the way up to the national Rotary finals. Having one previous Rotary finalist competing in the BBC's 'Great British Bake Off' has certainly given 'Young Chef' a new edge."

Added Sally Voss of Hardye's: "We are all terribly grateful to your club for their generosity and for organising printing of the aprons. I am sure you agree that the students looked incredibly smart."

Highway code refresher course for older drivers

DORSET'S 70+ drivers are being offered the chance to freshen up their driving skills and Highway Code knowledge.

The courses follow the success of a pilot project that helped older drivers' confidence and gave practical refresher sessions.

Dorchester hosts the first of these this Friday, October 17th, at County Hall.

Costing £5 the session does not involve any driving and covers subjects including staying fit to drive, car adaptations, new driving techniques, changes to the Highway Code, negotiating roundabouts and junctions safely, and dual carriageway and motorway driving.

There is also an option for a practical refresher drive at a later date. This 90-minute one-to-one practical driving session takes place on local roads and includes town and country driving. This aims to improve defensive driving techniques, hazard awareness and better road positioning, as well as giving tips that can help reduce fuel consumption and vehicle wear and tear.

Said Cabinet member for environment and economy, Cllr Peter Finney: "Research suggests that human error plays a part in almost all collisions.

"We could all do with a refresher from time-to-time, however long we've been driving. I'm going to have a go at this course. It will give me a chance to brush up on my skills."

For further information and to book a place visit www.dorsetforyou.com/roadsafety/gold or call the road safety team on 01305 224558.

Other sessions are planned at Weymouth Fire Safety Centre on Wednesday, November 12th; at Dorchester County Hall on Friday November 21st and at Beaminster Public Hall on Tuesday, December 2nd.

Hats off to Dorchester knitters

■ SOME of the 5,000 tiny hats created by Dorchester knitters

VOLUNTEERS at Age UK Dorchester have knitted over 5,000 tiny hats in aid of Innocent drinks & Age UK's Big Knit campaign.

The campaign, now in its 10th year, provides funding for local Age UKs in return for producing tiny hats to be sold on top of drinks across the country.

This year knitters were looked after by Libby Wood, an Age UK Dorchester Volunteer who, as well as knitting herself, has spent hours collecting and bagging up the hats ready to be sent off.

The funds go towards local projects delivered by Age UK Dorchester, like Reach Out, which aims to tackle isolation and loneliness in the local community. The funding lets us get our volunteers to people in need, allowing for regular visits and phone calls.

More investment needed to treat falls in the elderly

Physiotherapists are calling for more investment to help older people who suffer falls in Dorset.

Their professional organisation says not enough is being spent on physiotherapy services for the elderly and a relatively small investment could save millions of pounds of pounds, prevent or delay admission to care homes and even prevent deaths.

The Chartered Society of Physiotherapy (CSP) says up to a third of people who suffer a hip fracture die within a year and claim Dorset could save almost £5.7m if it invested in treatments to help prevent falls.

It says Dorset's Clinical Commissioning Group is facing an 11 percent rise in the number of care home admissions to 2020 but could save almost £3m more than any other clinical commissioning group if it invested in physiotherapy, because of its high proportion of ageing population.

But the health commissioners say there is a wide range of schemes already in place in the county including a falls alert system; a specialist falls services; integrated community therapy teams that deliver exercise to improve core stability and balance and other services as well.

Magna Housing helps Macmillan

EMPLOYEES at Dorchester-based Magna Housing Association supported Macmillan's 'world's biggest coffee morning' by organising a range of activities for staff to be involved with.

A raffle, breakfast barbecue and cake sale was held at their offices in Dorchester to raise funds for the charity.

The event was also on Magna's monthly 'dress down day', when staff can wear casual clothes in the office for a £1 donation to charity.

This month's collection was added to the amount raised from the coffee morning.

Danielle Woolfe, arrears officer at Magna, said: "I wanted to organise a coffee morning to remember our work colleagues who have passed away this year because of cancer.

"Staff really got behind the event and baked lots of lovely cakes for us to sell and eat!

We raised the grand sum of £445 for the Macmillan cause, in memory of those we have lost at Magna and in our personal lives as well."

Walnut whip-rounds

A DORCHESTER restaurant and coffee shop has been presented with a certificate for its help in organising fund-raising meals.

The Walnut Grove in Durngate Street was thanked and presented with a special certificate to mark raising £6,000 from the meals.

Organiser Allen Knott presented owners Gareth and Nicola Cutler with the certificate saying that without their support and help the venture would not have been so successful.

Mr Knott started what is known as the Fordington Goldmine Company with friends drawn mainly from the local church community. At each meal, held three or four times a year, they have a whip-round, donating the proceeds to local charities. The latest to benefit was the group behind the town's municipal almshouses who were given £365 to help pay for improvements to the gardens and communal areas.

Concert raises funds for St Mary's church Stratton

'MUSIC for an October Evening', performed by Thomas Hardye School music students raised almost £160 for the village church at Stratton.

The performance was the eighth year the students have visited Stratton.

Their instrumentalists were Harry Salter, Athony Tucker and Bethany Shead each on piano, Isabelle Baker on flute and Jamie Badley on trombone. Two students who plays for the National Youth Orchestra also performed - Jamie Riddoch on tuba with "Smartie Tubes", and Stacey Newlin who played the bassoon, but plays the viola with the NYO.

The evening raised funds of £158.86 for "The Friends of St. Marys", a non-religious organisation which helps preserve the ancient village Church, dating from the 14th century.

Dorchester's swimmers 'SwimBritain'

STAFF from Dorchester Sports Centre recently took part in a SwimBritain relay event at Bristol.

They were joined by other 1610 staff from Chard and Bridgewater.

The SwimBritain challenge was held at the Hengrove Park Leisure Centre as part of a national swimming programme to encourage 500,000 people to swim regularly.

Team members completed 1,000 metres in 1.07.05 which put them in 12th place overall.

1610 lead swim coordinator Ricky Hayes attended to support the event and the two teams associated with 1610. Ricky said "It was a fantastic occasion, with a great atmosphere. It was wonderful to see so many swimmers attend from a wide range of backgrounds from young children and fitness swimmers, to competitive swimmers. There were even elite athletes there fresh from the Glasgow Commonwealth Games.

It really is an inspiring event to enter as it motivates people to swim more and swim better."

THE 1610 staff team: Elliot Smart (Dorchester Sports Centre and West Dorset Warriors swimmer), Tom Cooper (Dorchester Sports Centre and West Dorset Warriors swimmer), Andrew Riley (Cresta Sports Centre in Chard and team captain) and Calum Jamieson (Trinity Sports and Leisure centre in Bridgwater)

Free conference on how to exploit E-marketing

DOZENS of small and medium-sized Dorset businesses will have received 12 hours advice in using digital technology by March next year.

A total of 180 firms will be getting free help from the Superfast Business project.

Now the organisation is also offering a free conference at Kingston Maurward College on October 21st entitled, 'E-marketing and Technology Megatrends for 2014 and Beyond'.

By 2016, Dorset should have 95 per cent superfast broadband coverage – one of the highest levels in Europe – and the conference will explain how it can be exploited.

Liz Wright, Programme Manager for Superfast Business said: "Rural broadband coverage in Dorset has improved dramatically in the last few years and by 2016 there will be almost total coverage.

"The Superfast Business project was launched to help SMEs make the most of digital opportunities and we've held a series of events.

"We've given advice to companies in how to use these technologies to improve all aspects of their business including marketing, recruitment, ICT, sales – and profits.

For more information about the Superfast Business programme and the conference visit www.superfastbusiness.co.uk.

In the evening there will be a General Knowledge Quiz in the hall for teams of 4-6 people, costing £3.50 per person, in aid of Village Hall funds. Bring your own drinks and nibbles. Contact Andy 260054 or Chris 264508.

■ AN open day at St George's on Saturday saw visitors try their hand at a variety of interests from bell ringing to making Dorset buttons. There were also demonstrations of organ music, flower arranging and spinning with tours of the church available prior to a Songs of Praise services in the evening with former BBC Radio Solent presenter Hugh Ashley.

"We realised we had a lot of talent within the church so thought we would offer the chance for that expertise to be shared," said organiser Elizabeth Clark.

■ POUNDBURY based legal firm, The Commercial Law Practice, has announced record growth for the third year in a row. Since 2012 the business has seen revenue grow by 88% and 30% per annum.

Said Lee Wilkins of the Commercial Law Practice: "We specialise in both residential and commercial property and in corporate and commercial work. Each of these areas has seen an upturn over the last couple of years, which has been an encouraging sign that businesses are recovering and feeling more confident in the economy."

■ County Council staff and councillors celebrate their Pride awards

Council awards staff for their achievements

DORSET County Council has recognised their staff for their hard work and achievements at the annual staff Pride Awards.

The event gave councillors, the Chief Executive and staff from across the council the chance to thank people for their commitment, skill and enthusiasm.

Debbie Ward, Chief Executive, said: "It is wonderful to see staff from across the county celebrating each other's success. These individuals and teams have gone the extra mile to provide excellent services and I would like to congratulate them on their achievements."

Dorset residents and county council staff were asked to nominate individuals and teams that they felt deserved special recognition for the excellent services they provide.

Nominations were short-listed by a panel of judges including the Leader of the council Spencer Flower, Chief Executive Debbie Ward, members of staff and representatives of the public through the Citizens' Panel.

Short-listed nominees came from across the diverse range of the county council's staff, including highways, children's services, outdoor education, arts development, and a day centre for people with dementia.

Mr Flower said: "I am extremely proud to see these individuals and teams rewarded for their dedication and hard work. We have a strong, dedicated workforce and everyone plays their part in making a difference for people in Dorset."

The winners of the Pride Awards were:

- Young Employee of the Year, Stephanie Leitch (account technician)
- Employee of the Year, Claire Shiels (manager, Children's Services)

News in brief...

■ A SPECIAL concert celebrating the Bride Valley in music and song takes place in Dorchester Town Hall this weekend.

The Bride Valley Band will present 'Songs from the Valley' on Sunday, October 19th October at 3pm. Tickets cost £6, including tea and cake.

The Bride Valley Band are seven musicians and singers who combine to perform original songs interspersed with reflections on life in rural West Dorset. They have performed across West Dorset including the Sidmouth Folk Festival.

Having added new songs to their repertoire, this concert in Dorchester will allow them to perform them for the first time in Dorset's county town.

All profits from the concert will go towards supporting the work of Home-Start West Dorset, a local charity which gives friendship, emotional and practical support to families.

For tickets please call 01305 265072 or email office@homestartwestdorset.co.uk.

■ NOMINATIONS are needed for the Annual Volunteer Awards evening being held on Thursday, October 30th at the Dorford Centre in Dorchester.

Organisers are requesting candidates for: Volunteer of the Year, Volunteer Groups of the Year and Young Volunteer of the Year.

With less than two weeks left before the closure date nomination forms can be obtained from the Volunteer Centre Dorset website: www.volunteeringdorset.org.uk.

■ A JUMBLE and book sale is being held in Moreton Village Hall this Saturday, October 18th from 10am to 2pm. Refreshments and home-made cakes will also be available.

The event is raising money for the new village hall. Building work started in July and should be completed in March.

Police to do spot checks on gun owners

Dorset Police is today calling for firearms owners to make sure their guns are being stored securely.

Over the last five years a total of 3,296 licensed firearms and shotguns have been reported lost or stolen in England and Wales.

While the annual number of firearms stolen or lost nationally has fallen from 553 in 2009 to 415 in 2013, Dorset Police is supporting a year-long national campaign to reduce this further.

From today, Dorset Police will be carrying out unannounced home visits where there are concerns about security and risk.

Chief Inspector Debbie Marsden, Operations Support at Dorset Police, said: "A lost or stolen firearm could end up in the hands of criminals who would pose a clear threat to the public. This is why Dorset Police is supporting this campaign to ensure that the highest standards of security and safety around firearms are upheld.

"We continually work with gun owners and this campaign helps to widen this engagement with the whole of the shooting community and public.

"Certificate holders who are do not comply with security measures may have their certificates revoked."

National Policing Lead for Firearms and Explosives Licensing, Chief Constable Andy Marsh said: "Our aim is not to catch out gun owners, which is why we are giving notice that unannounced visits will be taking place.

"We want to work with the shooting community to promote and engage gun owners about security, crime prevention and, where appropriate, give advice. I know that the vast majority of gun owners understand their responsibility to secure firearms and in the main take this very seriously."

Specific security advice can be found on the Home Office website – www.gov.uk/firearms-licensing-police-guidance.

Chief Constable Marsh said: "If you are concerned that guns are being kept insecurely please report it. I recognise the shooting community as a whole is law abiding and engaging, and I wish to protect the reputation and continued lawful use of firearms."

Crime Prevention Minister Norman Baker said: "The UK has some of the toughest gun laws in the world and I am determined to keep it that way. This campaign is an important reminder to certificate holders that it is essential that firearms and ammunition are stored securely and safely and kept out of criminal hands.

Members of the shooting community and the general public are encouraged to call a new dedicated Crimestoppers phone line – 0800 028 4010 – to report any concerns about legally held guns.

Police crackdown on anti-social behaviour

A POLICE campaign to tackle anti-social behaviour and street drinking round Weymouth is being run for a second time.

Operation Bear was launched with enhanced patrols during the middle of August, issuing 22 dispersal orders for anti-social behaviour and moving on 60 street drinkers following reports of anti-social behaviour. Eight people were arrested.

The operation was a success so, following more local community concerns, Operation Bear is being repeated until October 27th.

Police say local officers will continue to target any street drinkers causing anti-social behaviour and committing crimes as well as working with partner agencies to offer support and advice.

Anyone witnessing street drinkers causing anti-social behaviour should call Dorset Police on 101 or on 999 if crime is in progress.

Dorset Tourism Awards hopefuls

The winners of the annual Dorset Tourism Awards will be announced this evening at an event at the Tank Museum.

Thirty eight tourism businesses have been selected as finalists across sixteen categories.

Andrew Alder of main sponsors Saffery Champness and a member of the judging panel said: "We have been delighted by the high standard of entrants and the quality of their submissions. It's quite clear from all the hard work and commitment of the businesses involved that these awards have captured the imagination of the regional tourism industry and the accolades they bring. We were particularly pleased by the entries for the Entrepreneurs Category which we helped to introduce this year."

Robin Barker of Services for Tourism, which created and manage the awards programme, commented: "It is a real delight seeing the increase in entries this year, along with the commitment to quality shown by all concerned. The judges have faced some very difficult decisions and I congratulate all entrants for their vision, drive and dedication."

■ Awards finalists: Greenwood Grange Manager Zoe Belcher, right, with Jennifer Nell

Successful businesses in the Dorset Awards will automatically be considered for the South West Tourism Excellence Awards in February 2015 and then possibly go on to represent Dorset at the National Enjoy England Awards later in the year.

Armed robbery: witnesses sought

TERRIFIED householders in Weymouth have been robbed by a masked gang who threatened them with a wrench.

Police say the aggravated burglary happened in the Rodwell area of town at around 9.50pm on October 3rd.

Three men wearing balaclavas entered a house in Bradford Road via an insecure back door. One man was armed with a wrench and threatened the occupants.

The offenders stole a laptop and money from the victim's purse and then left at speed in a maroon coloured hatchback car heading toward Chickerell Road.

Detective Constable Daniel Rowan, of Weymouth CID, said: "This was a distressing incident for the victims.

"I would urge anyone who saw suspicious activity along Bradford Road between 9.30pm and 10pm on that day to come forward.

"Also, I would like to hear from anybody who witnessed the described vehicle driving at speed along Chickerell Road at around 10pm.

"Anyone with information about the men responsible should contact police in confidence."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101, quoting incident number 3:499 or call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111.

Tri-council partnership plan moves forwards

A SCHEME to create a tri-council partnership between Weymouth and Portland, West Dorset and North Dorset has taken another step forward.

Members of Weymouth and Portland's management committee agreed to recommend the move to full council on November 6th.

Chairman, Councillor Mike Byatt, warned colleagues: "This is part of some of the tough decisions this council has to make in the changing landscape of local government."

He added that that included being more self-sufficient for financing, members approving the recommendation to full council but only if council staff had a chance to consider what it meant for them.

Councillor Ian Bruce said it had to be this way because, in two years time, he didn't want to be in a battle with staff leaving because they didn't like what had happened.

More wariness came from Councillor Ray Nowak who said he was "sort of supportive" because of local decision making but he was "wary of walking into a unitary authority", adding: "On balance there is enough to say we need to look at this more seriously to see what benefits there are for residents, but there are a lot of question marks."

One man who voted against the idea was Councillor Ian Roebuck who felt staff were not being considered enough.

He said: "We are already losing senior staff who are overloaded. The latest situation is another senior member has just given notice and the possibility of a tri-council partnership was the reason."

Chief executive Matt Prosser replied: "I am incredibly concerned about staff, how they are treated and talked to."

The majority of costs were over staffing, he said, so there was a lot of work to do to secure the detail of this. Going for a tri-council partnership meant a chance of Government money for improvements.

He added: "It meets our ambitions that we want to deliver for service reviews and staff may be leaving now because of uncertainty over our current partnership with West Dorset rather than because we a reconsidering adding North Dorset to the partnership."

He urged members to "seriously consider" a tri-council partnership while Councillor Mike Goodman said: "We have got to make sure that we give maximum support to our people who will be the ones who will face the maximum of amount of turbulence with this.

"I think it is a great idea. Unless we have the courage to work together we will miss a great opportunity."

Capsizing 'fun' say RNLI volunteers

TWO new volunteer crew members at Weymouth lifeboat station have had a vital part of their crew training funded by Lloyd's Register Foundation.

Ian Bickerstaff and Steff Drever, from Weymouth recently travelled to RNLI College in Poole, Dorset, to complete the charity's Trainee Crew Course.

A key part of the course is the sea survival element. It enables new volunteer crew to be trained in a variety of crucial ways including how to abandon ship with a 4m jump into water, team survival swimming, coping in a liferaft in darkness, how to deal with fires aboard lifeboats, how to right a capsized inshore lifeboat and the importance of lifejackets.

Training took place in the Sea Survival Centre at the charity's college, which includes a 25m wave-generating survival tank, allowing them to experience what they may encounter at sea.

The training was funded by Lloyd's Register Foundation, a UK registered charity which is funding the Sea Survival element of RNLI's trainee crew courses for five years until December 2015. This additional funding of nearly £1 million will bring their total support for the RNLI to just over £1.5 million.

Talking about the training, Ian Bickerstaff, who volunteers at Weymouth, said: "The course was really good: demanding, challenging but also good fun. Veering down on to Old Harry Rocks was one of the highlights as well as capsize drill."

Steff Drever said: " It was great to meet other volunteers from around the country as well as undertaking the exercises which we were put through. I especially enjoyed the capsize drill."

Weymouth station lifeboat operations manager John Harvey said: "The support given by LR Foundation is hugely important to the RNLI. We are extremely grateful that it has chosen to fund sea survival training which teaches our volunteers vital skills.

New businesses get council help

LESSONS in business look likely to help boost enterprise in Weymouth & Portland.

Up to 20 people interested in starting their own business recently came together to celebrate completing an Enterprise Training Course, meeting at the Enterprise Club, which supports new business, at Weymouth College.

The club and the training courses are supported by Weymouth and Portland council whose corporate affairs spokesman Councillor Mike Byatt said: "It is great news for Weymouth and Portland that there are a lot of enthusiastic and enterprising business people who are just starting out. I wish their enterprises every success."

The event was also attended by representatives of Weymouth and Portland Chamber of Commerce and training provider WSX Enterprise.

Mr Byatt said: "The borough council supports growth in the economy through our partnership with WSX by assisting people who want to become self-employed or start their own business.

"This has been a very successful programme leading to several new small business start-ups and hopefully many more in the future."

Those interested can find out more about starting a business at www.dorsetforyou.com/business-support/wdwp.

Communities Living Sustainably

Waste Less, Spend Better- Think Global, Support Local

Jamie Catto

INSPIRED by the idea of 'Living Differently', the themes of One World Week, Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset is staging two FREE events on Wednesday 22nd October to encourage and promote sustainable alternatives in our food, energy, financial systems and our personal lives.

During the afternoon (12-6pm), experts will be on hand to help you save money on energy and water, reduce your waste and eat well. You can also take part in our driving competition by testing your skills in the Driving Simulator.

You'll also be able to bring your bike for a free check-up, make your own bags, enjoy hot soup and turn your old T-shirt into a funky bag. Freebies and prizes include a £100 voucher for a Red Letter Experience Day. The event is at Bridport Town Hall and Bucky Doo Square between 12pm and 6pm.

Emily Bullock of CLS says, "This event promises to be a lot of fun, while helping people to find simple practical ways to waste less and spend better. One way to spend better is to buy local food, this way your money stays in Dorset. We'll have free local "upcycled" soup and vouchers for the Real Food Bus, Dorset's very own local food touring shop!"

In the evening (6.30-9.30pm) at the Bridport's Lyric Theatre, Jamie Catto, founder member of Faithless and driving force behind the award winning "1 Giant Leap", will give us food for thought about what kind of food system we are currently supporting, how we might create a new system by fundamentally changing our world views, and how this will lead to real transformation.

This will lead on to the launch of our bid to win a Sustainable Food Town Award for Bridport. This new award will celebrate and continue to build Bridport's commitment to, and passion for, sustainable, local and healthy food for everyone in our community. It will promote more widely what we are already doing well, while supporting the emerging local food culture to also tackle food waste, combat food poverty and incubate new enterprises.

"There is already a rich mix of local food work going on in Bridport. By going for this award we can weave together all the diverse strands to ensure access to good healthy food is open to all who live and work in our town, and to visitors too. Making our rich food culture as visible and sustainable as possible is our ultimate aim." Says Linda Hull, CLS Food Partnership co-ordinator.

A panel of people passionate about food will tell how their work is contributing to the creation of a sustainable local food system. We'll also be asking the audience to share their big wishes for the Future of Food in Bridport.

A special pre-event menu celebrating locally sourced produce is offered by the Olive Tree Restaurant to support Bridport's bid to become a Sustainable Food Town. £15 for 2 courses for diners booked before 7:00pm.

Doors open at the Lyric from 6.30 for networking, browsing an exhibition of community food projects and sampling Gyle59's Freedom Hiker beer along with Ford Farm cheese from the Bride Valley. The event will kick off at 7.30.

Both events are free, but booking for the evening event is essential.

DO YOU keep meaning to work out where to recycle your ink cartridges, how to control your heating, and the cheapest place to buy local vegetables? Or maybe you have a pile of paperwork concerning your utility bills that you just can't get round to sorting out?

Imagine working through it with a group of friends, and a manual customised to Dorset that is full of solutions. Our Transition Together programme supports small groups to work through simple practical advice on energy, water, waste, food and transport. We'll link you up with others in your area, provide the manuals and come along to your first meeting to get you started. And it's FREE; it's a tried and tested programme, previous participants have saved an average of £400 on household bills.

Previous participants have said:

"We just cried laughing a lot of the time, it was hilarious! Cos we were pretty hopeless the lot of us... you know when we were talking about thermostats...we didn't even know we had a thermostat."

"It was number one about getting to know people around me better, with all the benefits I think that has - the feeling of belonging, more part of where you are, share things, borrow and lend."

"it's not about who can be greenest, it's just about seeing how you can change your life."

Members-only dining club opens it doors

A HIGH class fine dining and wine club has opened in Weymouth.

No 4 The Chamber on Trinity Road can cater for up to 30 people in its first floor setting overlooking the harbour.

Currently below this is the Oasis Bistro which owner Shellie Hind plans to expand into The Chamber if it proves successful.

She said: "I decided to launch this dining club for Weymouth because there is nothing else like it in the town.

"This will be a members' club for members, with members' benefits. There will be discounts for corporate membership, complimentary wifi, tea, coffee and newspapers and complimentary room hire for private dining.

"The Chamber has been a year in the making and we think we have got it just right."

Soft lighting, marble and wood tables, a mahogany bar and plenty of leg room all combine for that exclusivity The Chamber is aiming for.

Shellie said: "My aim is to bring to people's attention that here they can come and really relax without a lot of the hustle and bustle that you get in a pub.

"We realise that it will take time but we are here to stay and we think we will soon have a growing membership."

How should councils work with less funding?

New ways of working will be investigated by the West Dorset Partnership at its annual meeting in Dorchester in November.

"We are in a time of change, with less public sector funding being available. The annual assembly will be looking at the future of the partnership and if and how it can continue with potentially less funding," said Chair Paul Everall.

Key note speakers at the meeting, on Thursday, November 6th at the Corn Exchange, will be Debbie Ward, Chief Executive of Dorset County Council and David Evans, Environmental and Planning Director at West Dorset District Council. They will set out their visions for the councils working with communities over the coming years.

The meeting will also hear from Deb Appleby from Locality, a nationwide network for community-led organisations, who will lead the discussions on future working.

Applications for places to take part at the annual assembly meeting should be sent to Maria Clarke, Community Planning Officer, at westdorsetpartnership@westdorset-weymouth.gov.uk, by October 31st.

History from the air

Aerial archaeology will be the subject of a talk at the County Museum this week.

Francesca Radcliffe will be speaking about finds spotted from the air at a meeting of the Dorchester Association for Research into Local History this Friday, October 17th at 7.30pm.

Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting at a cost of £2.

What are we breathing?

The next Thomas Hardye Community Lecture will look at air pollution.

"A Pollutant's Tale: Gases in the Air" will be presented by Tim Harrison of the University of Bristol, on Monday, October 20th at 7pm in the school theatre.

The lecture will explore the Earth's atmosphere and the pollutants that contaminate it and will include practical demonstrations.

Tickets for this lecture are free and available from the school reception. The school asks people not to take tickets unless they are certain to be able to use them as the events are usually fully booked.

Although free the audience is asked to make a donation. At the last lecture £253.46 was donated to the Dorchester Area Schools Partnership Science Development Fund, to help local first and middle schools engage with science.

Coastal erosion talk

WEYMOUTH Civic Society's next meeting is on Monday, October 20th, at 7.30pm in the Nothe Fort.

Those attending will be able to hear county earth science manager Richard Edmonds talk about Coastal Erosion of the Weymouth Lowlands.

Anyone requiring transport should contact 01305 776541 where the secretary will arrange collection by the nearest member.

■ Ben Waters

Stars' favourite pianist to play at Royal Manor

AN evening with top pianist Ben Waters will take place at The Royal Manor Theatre, Portland, on November 21st and 22nd.

Ben Waters' name has become synonymous with excellent musicianship and performance. Jools Holland described Ben as one of his favourite 10 pianists in history and asked him to perform at his wedding.

Ben has played alongside Jerry Lee Lewis, Chuck Berry, The Rolling Stones, Ray Davies, Jools Holland, Hugh Laurie and many others.

Travelling the world for over 20 years, Ben's reputation as an internationally acclaimed musician was learned the hard way, playing in every imaginable type of venue from the bottom of whisky vats to the Royal Albert Hall and the Royal Festival Hall where he was selected by Ray Davies as one of his 12 favourite bands to perform at his Meltdown Festival.

His album Boogie4Stu - featuring all the Rolling Stones, PJ Harvey and Jools Holland who loaned his studio is raising money in aid of the British Heart Foundation in memory of Ian Stewart. It is selling well worldwide and topping many charts.

The CD has charted as No 1 in the Rock 'n Roll charts with Amazon and all over the world.

All tickets for November 21st-22nd cost £12. Book on-line at www.royalmanortheatre.co.uk. Telephone bookings can be made by calling 0333 666 3366.

FAIRPORT CONVENTION AT THE MARINE THEATRE

HAILED as the originators of British folk-rock music, Fairport Convention remains one of the most entertaining bands on the live music scene.

The band has won a coveted BBC Lifetime Achievement Award and Radio 2 listeners voted Fairport's groundbreaking album Liege & Lief 'The Most Influential Folk Album of All Time'.

Fairport's 2014 Winter Tour concerts will feature a mix of material from their recent albums as well as classics from the band's earlier repertoire. There will also be some brand new and previously unperformed songs destined for Fairport's next studio album.

Whether you are a long-time fan or a newcomer to their music an evening with Fairport Convention will surprise and delight you.

Fairport Convention play at the Marine Theatre on Tuesday, October 28th. Doors open 7.45pm, with the band onstage at 8.30pm.

Tickets are £27.50 plus £2.50 booking fee. To book visit www.marinetheatre.com or call 01297 442138.

Mini Chutfest at Symondsbury Store

SYMONDSBURY Store is situated in a perfect location at Manor Yard in the idyllic village of Symondsbury. Since opening on August bank holiday weekend it has received fantastic support from both local villagers and visitors alike.

On Sunday, October 26th the Store is hosting its very own "Mini Chutfest" the ideal opportunity for people to pop along, meet some of the producers and sample their chutneys, cordials, preserves, crackers and cheese! This event is in conjunction with Dorset Food Week and depending on how well this initial chutfest is supported we may transform it into a larger affair in the Tithe Barn next year.

The producers that are supporting the chutfest are: The Cherry Tree, Jurassic Cottage Foods, Dorset Handmade, Mill House Kitchen & Taddle Farm Foods, Ford Farm Cheese, The Wobbly Cottage and Thomas J Fudge.

The store is now fully licensed and has some fabulous local ciders, wines and liquors in stock. It also sells produce that has been organically grown from seed by our gardeners on Symondsbury Estate.

Symondsbury Store is open Monday to Saturday from 8.30am until 5.30pm and Sunday from 10.30am until 4.30pm.

Reading of Favourite Poems at Bridport Arts Centre

YOU can hear your favourite poem read at the Arts Centre this Friday, October 17th at 11am. Amongst the Nations' favourites are "If," "Remember," "Jabberwocky," and "To Autumn," but will they be included in the Bridport choices?

David Bushrod, Christine Prideaux and Margie Barbour will be ready to read your choices, and theirs at a poetry morning to raise funds for the Bridport Museum and Bridport Arts 40th Anniversary Fund. The director of the Museum, Emily Hicks will sing favourite songs accompanied by supporter Bruce Upton on the magnificent Estonian Grand piano.

Dedications can accompany your choice of poem so the readers can say who you would like the poem read for and why you have chosen it. Tickets are £6 or £5 for members and concessions from the box office, 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

Clowning, Comedy and Death all in a day with Frank Wurzinger at the Lyric

Comedy is not usually associated with the taboo subject of death, but in his fresh-from-Edinburgh Festival solo show Goodbye Günther, acclaimed performer Frank Wurzinger shows us a lighter side in this hilarious yet touching physical comedy about life, death and the afterlife. Frank brings this production to Bridport's Lyric Theatre on Saturday, October 18th at 8pm.

Step into the lonely world of Günther Obermaier; a single, quiet, middle aged man whose best friend is a goldfish. Günther is like any other bachelor, spending his time playing with his radio, browsing the Lonely Hearts section in the newspaper and contemplating life. The only difference between Günther and any other single solitary guy is that contemplating life is suddenly moved to the forefront of his priorities when he is told he only has ten days to live.

Upon receiving this news, Günther starts to live his life to the full. We are charmed by his optimism, appalled by his denial. This is a funny and ultimately life-affirming show about death. It is bizarre and ridiculous but never trivialises its subject matter. We laugh at Günther, yet we never lose sight of his humanity. This charming mix of physical comedy, pathos, tragedy and utter nonsense is brought to you from the team of the remarkably enjoyable Confetti Maker, Frank's first show.

In this very intimate and personal play, Goodbye Günther touches on many of the issues and emotions surrounding death, such as denial, religion, nostalgia and desperation. However, it is not often that we are able to address such issues with an attitude of acceptance and a sense of freedom to find the humour in even the most tragic of situations. Goodbye Günther is a tragically heart-wrenching yet highly comical and entertaining play, a one-man show suitable for ages 12+ not to be missed.

Earlier in the day, Frank will be leading a one-off workshop in Clown and Physical Comedy from 10am – 1pm, for adults and ages 16+. There are limited spaces so advance booking is essential by contacting the Lyric: admin@the-lyric.com / 01308 423951. A place on the workshop is £20 or £10 for full-time students with proof of NUS.

Tickets to the performance are £10, available from Bridport Arts Centre: 01308 424204, online www.bridport-arts.com and on the door, if available, from 7:30pm on the night.

DINING OUT IN WEST DORSET

Celebrate Christmas at Lyme Regis Golf Club's Christmas Party Night

Restaurant open to the general public all year round

THE very first Christmas Party Night at Lyme Regis Golf Club takes place on Friday, December 12th. With a special two-course menu followed by a disco to celebrate the festive season, there's no better place for your Christmas Party.

Contrary to popular belief, anybody can dine at the Golf Club. The common misconception is that you have to be a member, or a visiting golfer to enter the clubhouse, but this is not the case. The restaurant is open to the general public all year round.

Now famous for their Sunday carvery, head chef Leon Finbow has created a special Christmas menu, available from the end of November until Sunday 21st December. Please see the menu on the opposite page.

However, it's the party night on the 12th, which will be providing the real Christmas party atmosphere. Whether it's your office Christmas party, or just a celebration amongst friends, everyone is welcome at Lyme Regis Golf Club. Partygoers will be treated to a glass of fizz on arrival, a Roast Turkey dinner with all the trimmings (or a vegetarian option), chocolate cheesecake, and a disco with DJ Jurassic Dave playing classic Christmas tunes as well as cheesy disco numbers!

With all this for just £19.95 per person, plan your party, get your finest festive outfit ready, and call the club on 01297 442963 (option 3) to book your table.

New Clubhouse Manager

Duncan Scott

LYME Regis Golf Club is delighted to welcome its new Club Steward Duncan Scott. Duncan brings with him a wealth of experience having been involved with golf clubs since he was 16 years old, when his parents ran a club in Blackpool.

Having just spent 3 years at Saltford Golf Club, between Bath and Bristol, Duncan was keen to move back to the coast, and Lyme Regis presented the perfect opportunity.

Having grown up in the golf hospitality environment, it was a natural progression for Duncan to embark on a career in it himself. He started his career at Wyke Green Golf Club in London, before moving onto the British Army Golf Club in Sennelager, Germany, where he spent 10 years having started as a chef, then moving through the ranks to become clubhouse manager.

Duncan also spent time as a chef assessor, so knows all about good food. Now based at Lyme Regis he will be working closely with Head Chef Leon Finbow to put the golf club on the local fine dining map! He wants to continue to build on the monthly theme nights and get more of the local community involved as well as the golf club members. It's important that the members have a place where they can relax and enjoy a drink and a meal after a round, and also that It provides a great restaurant for all non-golfing locals to feel welcome at, and enjoy.

Lyme Regis Golf Club would also like to take this opportunity to thank outgoing club Steward Simon Wicksteed, and his wife Elaine, for their tireless hard work over the past few years. They have been a great asset to the club, and we wish them a wonderful retirement in sunnier climes!

Not only does Lyme Regis Golf Club provide wonderful views, it also boost some of the most spectacular views over the Jurassic Coast.

A spectacular cliff top location with an above par restaurant that caters for all!

LYME Regis Golf Club is situated on Timber Hill in Lyme Regis, on the Cliff top. The course itself treats both members and visitors to some of the most stunning panoramic views across Lyme Bay.

The clubhouse looks out onto the course and offers a relaxed environment for everyone to enjoy the excellent catering at the club, whether you're a member, visiting golfer, or have no interest in golf and just want to enjoy the great food!

Everything on the menu is freshly prepared in the clubhouse kitchen, and sourced locally where possible. The Golf Club offer a range of daily specials, which includes fresh local seafood from Lyme Bay, and meat from local farmers. The kitchen is also happy to cater for any special dietary requirements.

The club is now becoming famous for its superb Sunday Carvery. Open to all visitors from 12 noon – 2:30pm, there is a choice of three meats, and a large selection of vegetables and potatoes that you can help yourself to. As the carvery is so popular it is bookings only, and if you haven't tried it yet, you really should!

The excellent catering reputation coupled with the outstanding views across the bay from the Course also make it an ideal location and the perfect place to hold your private event, party, function, or wedding.

The facilities in the clubhouse at Lyme Regis Golf Club are comfortably able to accommodate up to 150 guests for parties and 120 guests for a formal dinner, and there is a variety of menus available ranging from a finger buffet to a luxury dinner.

The professional approach, attention to detail and friendly staff will ensure that your private function or party will be one to remember.

The dining room and lounge areas all overlook the golf course and there is easy access to the south-facing patio area throughout the year, which gives members and visitors alike the opportunity to enjoy their choice of beverages in the open air during the summer months.

To make a booking please call the club on 01297 442963, and select option 3.

WOW Youth Theatre to perform Sister Act

WOW Youth Musical Theatre are presenting, for their Autumn Production, The hit musical SISTER ACT, which is based on the 1992 hit film starring Whoopi Goldberg. Music by Alan (8 time Oscar winner) Menken.

This feel-amazing musical comedy tells the hilarious story of Deloris Van Cartier, a wannabe diva whose life takes a surprising turn when she witnesses a crime, committed by her gangster boyfriend. The cops put her into a witness protection programme and hides her, in the last place anyone would think to look, - a convent. Under the suspicious watch of the Mother Superior, Deloris helps her fellow sisters find their voices as she unexpectedly rediscovers her own and her relationship with an old school friend who is the police officer, destined to keep her safe from her former gangster boyfriend. A sparkling tribute to the power of friendship, SISTER ACT, is a reason to rejoice.

This is very high budget production with the Nuns having several different (habit) costume changes and a 13 piece orchestra to cope with the big band musical score. With a very large set costing £5k this all adds up to probably the biggest budget that WOW has ever experienced.

Director/Choreographer is Martyn Knight who has directed many of the successful WOW shows. He is assisted by Martine Burt with Musical Director Heather Reed, assisted by Janet Stockley as Chorus Master, making up a very experienced production team.

Music rehearsals for the production started back in May with the Director starting floor rehearsals in September.

The leading roles are played by Fern Pritchard - Deloris, Callum Heinrick - Eddie. Ada Barume - Mother Superior and Richard Treharne - Curtis, Charlotte Allen - Sister Mary Robert, Reine-Beau Anderson - Sister Mary Lazarus, Cassandra Grindley - Sister Mary Patrick.

This production gives the ladies of the cast plenty to do with an enormous amount of lively music to learn There are many other parts which means that there will be in excess of 20 body Mic's in use during the show.

After the enormous success of the last musical 'GREASE' WOW are looking forward to good houses again and promises the audience that you will have a great time.

Ticket s are on sell at the Pavilion Box Office 01305 783225 or online. The seat prices start from £11.50 and £14.00 with concessions on Wednesday evening and Saturday Matinee for Seniors/Children.

FROM LAUGHARNE TO LYME

HAD he lived, Dylan Thomas would be 100 years old on the October 27th 2014 and, this year, there are many events taking place all over the country in celebration of his work.

Amid Giants & Idols coffee house provides a fitting place to host just such a celebration on Saturday, October 25th. The connection between coffee houses and creativity has long been evident and, in its heyday, the Kardomah Cafe in Swansea (the place of Thomas' birth) attracted a bohemian crowd. Dylan Thomas and his fellow writers, artists and musicians spent so much time there, they became known as the Kardomah Gang.

This is a one-off opportunity to enjoy a glass of wine, a few nibbles and take part in a celebration of the man who wrote prolifically from an early age, completing works such as "Under Milk Wood" and poems like "Do not go gentle into that good night" before his sad, untimely death in New York at just 39 years old.

DORSET TEA®

AT DORSET TEA™ we love nothing more than lacing up our Merrell's and hitting the outdoors. October is the perfect time to discover the stunning colours and scenery of autumn in Dorset and the National Trust is an excellent way to plan a walking route. We think the following routes will all deliver everything you could want from an autumnal stroll in our beautiful county.

1. CORFE CASTLE – Bask in the stunning castle views as you ramble around this Purbeck village.
2. MELBURY DOWNS – Immerse yourself in true Hardy country and the landscapes which inspired his novels.
3. MARSHWOOD – Enjoy hilltop views of Marshwood Vale and rolling hills on this flat 1 mile walk.
4. BROWNSEA ISLAND – Red squirrel spotting is at its peak in autumn alongside beautifully coloured trees on Brownsea Island.
5. HOD HILL – Step to Iron Age and Roman times on Hod Hill with superb views of rural Dorset.

We can't decide which one to do first. Visit www.dorsettea.co.uk for more information and map links.

Remember to share any pictures of you out and about discovering Dorset on the DORSET TEA™ Facebook page, or tweet us at @Dorset_tea.
And don't forget to take your flask of DORSET TEA™ with you to warm you up!

AXMINSTER - £249,950

THREE BEDROOM SEMI-DETACHED

GORDON & Rumsby

This semi detached three bedroom property is offered for sale together with a building plot and planning permission for the erection of an attached two bedroom house. The property is situated in a slightly elevated residential location with lovely views and is within half a mile of the town centre. The existing accommodation has been updated in recent years and is well presented providing an attractive home that is ready for occupation. There are three bedrooms, re-fitted contemporary bathroom, lounge with wood burning stove, separate dining room and kitchen which has been beautifully fitted with handmade units. Currently adjoining the house is a large outhouse providing utility room, pantry, W.C. and store room but this would be replaced with the new building. There is an enclosed rear garden and a large front garden with lots of parking and currently a car port to one side. The property benefits from double glazing and gas central heating throughout. There is cavity wall and loft insulation. Planning permission has been granted this year to create a new adjoining property to the side.

Axminster is an old market town made famous by the Axminster carpet company and is situated on the River Axe in East Devon. There is a main line train station with services to London Waterloo and Exeter and the town provides a good range of day to day shopping, banking and health needs. The Jurassic coast at Lyme Regis is just 4 miles to the south and the surrounding area has been designated as being of Outstanding Natural Beauty. The property is offered to the market with an asking price of £249,950. Please call Gordon and Rumsby on 01297 553768 for more information or to book a viewing.

VICARY & Co, The name for QUALITY LETTINGS in Bridport and Axminster, are please to offer a well presented modern / contemporary first floor apartment in walking distance of Bridport town centre and set in a quiet location.

BRIDPORT - £695 PCM

MODERN / CONTEMPORARY FIRST FLOOR APARTMENT

With entry gained via sweeping stone steps and path through to the enclosed courtyard set with an eye-catching obelisk, a front communal door with secure entry leads into the communal lobby at ground floor level, with stairs and lift to all floors. The apartment is located on the first floor, where the Front Door, with secure camera / screen entry leads into the Hall, with solid wooden floor, Storage cupboard with shelves and two skylights providing ample light. Doors lead off to the Lounge / Dining Room, with continuing solid wooden floor. The vaulted ceiling incorporates downlights, whilst this light and airy room has two windows to the rear aspect and two windows to the side aspect offering views across rooftops to the countryside beyond. Exposed brick walls flank the chimney breast which has a fireplace as focal point with stone surround / hearth incorporating a contemporary style satin steel / chrome gas log effect fire.

The solid wooden floor continues into the Kitchen, which has a part vaulted ceiling with exposed wooden beam and again incorporates downlights. A window to side aspect offers views across rooftops to the countryside beyond. Fitted with solid light wood base and wall units, with matching solid wood work surface which incorporates a contemporary style stainless steel 1½ bowl sink. The kitchen has an integrated satin steel five-burner gas hob, with electric satin steel contemporary style extractor hood over, satin steel electric double oven / grill, dishwasher, washing machine and fridge / freezer. The concealed gas combi-boiler provides hot water and central heating for the apartment.

Bedroom One, a double size room, has a part vaulted ceiling with exposed wooden beam and a window to the rear aspect. An exposed brick wall serves as a feature to this room. A built-in triple door wardrobe with shelves and hanging rails provides ample storage. Bedroom two, a large double size room, again has a part vaulted ceiling with exposed wooden beam. A window to side aspect offers views across rooftops to the countryside beyond and an exposed brick wall serves as a feature to this room. An ample size built-in triple door wardrobe with shelves and hanging rails provides storage. Both bedrooms have carpet flooring.

The striking En-suite bathroom has a solid wooden floor and walls fully tiled with aqua / blue / green colour glazed tiles. The white bathroom suite comprises pedestal wash hand basin, bath with 'telephone' style tap incorporating hand shower facility and low-level WC. A further feature is the solid wood panelling to the bath and an Edwardian style radiator incorporating a towel rail.

The Shower room is again a striking room, with walls fully tiled with deep aqua colour glazed tiles and a solid wooden floor. The white suite comprises a pedestal wash hand basin and low-level WC. The corner shower cubicle has a thermo shower unit. Again an Edwardian style radiator incorporating a towel rail serves as a feature to this area.

Outside a parking space is provided for one vehicle for this apartment and spaces provided for visitors. The property is offered Part Furnished, and is available mid November at £695 per calendar month.

"All estate agents are equal, but some are more equal than others!"

Below are a sample of properties in Beaminster and the surrounding area that were being marketed by our competitors. These marketing campaigns proved unsuccessful. However, once the vendors switched to Symonds & Sampson, sales were quickly agreed. If you are on the market without success, why not call in or ring us on 01308 863100 to book your free market appraisal and let us get you moving!!

If you have instructed another agent on a sole agency basis or sole selling right, the terms of your agreement need to be considered to avoid two commission payments.

Renault Adds Signature Trim to Captur Range

RENAULT has introduced a new top-of-the-range trim level to its popular Captur compact-crossover – Captur Signature. This high specification model builds on the Dynamique S MediaNav version and adds numerous extras, including some exclusive ones, as standard. Order books have now opened with prices for Captur Signature starting from £17,495.

On the exterior, 17-inch Explore alloy wheels with black inserts and chrome exterior details on the side strips, boot lid, front grille and fog lights set the Signature trim level apart. A two-tone exterior finish is standard whilst a distinctive optional Flame Red metallic paint is available. A choice of three other metallic and two solid colours is also available.

On the interior, Captur Signature receives upgrades in the form of part-leather upholstery, Signature door sill plates and mats and the Red Touch Pack – adding bright red detail to the centre console, speakers and air vents.

In terms of technology, the Captur Signature represents a step up from the Dynamique S MediaNav trim. The R-Link infotainment system includes a 7-inch touchscreen, satellite navigation (with EU mapping and TomTom LIVE traffic services), USB connectivity and an uprated 4 x 35W Arkamys radio with 3D sound. A rear parking camera combines with the rear parking sensors to make parking effortless. The Grip Xtend advanced traction control system provides maximum grip on the road in difficult driving conditions through the use of a simple thumbwheel on the centre console.

Captur Signature retains the comprehensive specification from the rest of the Captur range with equipment such as electric folding door mirrors, automatic climate control, rear parking sensors, tinted rear windows and tailgate, Bluetooth connectivity and LED daytime running lights.

Captur Signature is available with a choice of two petrol and diesel engines. The petrol line-up consists of a 0.9-litre TCe 90, mated to a five-speed manual transmission, and a 1.2-litre TCe 120, which comes with a six-speed, dual-clutch automatic gearbox. In terms of diesel, the 1.5-litre dCi 90 is available as both a manual and an automatic. On the ENERGY dCi 90 version, emissions are as low as 95g/km whilst fuel economy on the official combined cycle is 78.5mpg – meaning low running costs and free Road Fund Licence.

Every new Captur is covered by a four year/100,000 miles warranty, as well as four years roadside assistance. Four years/48,000 miles free servicing is available to customers purchasing their new vehicle on a Renault Selections PCP Finance package. Servicing is required every one year/18,000 miles.

The Renault Captur range, which is priced from £14,195, has proved popular with UK motorists since its launch in May 2013 with over 21,000 of the compact-crossovers finding new homes – over 15,000 of these have been sold so far in 2014, making it Renault's second best-selling model in the UK.

All-New Ford Mondeo Enhances Comfort with Sophisticated Technology

▲ The all-new Ford Mondeo

THE all-new Ford Mondeo combines innovative driver assist technologies, an advanced chassis structure, and high quality interior to deliver superior comfort and refinement.

Mondeo introduces in Europe a new integral link rear suspension for improved ride comfort and interior noise reductions. Mondeo also offers Ford's new SYNC 2 voice control connectivity system with eight inch touchscreen for easy operation of phone, entertainment, climate and navigation systems.

Technologies including Ford's first adaptive LED headlamps in Europe and Active Park Assist featuring Perpendicular Parking contribute to a simplified driving experience.

"The new all-new Mondeo uses Ford's latest innovation and technologies to deliver the most refined and user-friendly Mondeo driving experience yet," said Ulrich Koesters, vehicle line director, Ford of Europe. "From systems that guide drivers hands-free out of parking spaces at the start of journeys to seats that deflate to allow easy exit at the end, the Mondeo is focused on the occupant from start to finish."

Lighting the way with advanced technology

All-new Mondeo's adaptive LED headlamps combine the daylight-mimicking light clarity of full-LED headlamps with Ford's Adaptive Front Lighting System, which adjusts the headlight beam angle and intensity to match the driving environment. The system can choose one of seven settings according to vehicle speed, ambient light conditions, steering angle, distance to the vehicle in front and windscreen wiper activation.

The all-new Mondeo will feature an advanced version of Active Park Assist featuring Perpendicular Parking, which enables drivers to detect suitably-sized parallel parking spaces and reverse hands-free into spaces parallel to the road and side-to-side with other cars.

This advanced parking feature will be supported by both Park-Out Assist, which helps drivers to exit parallel parking spaces; and Side Parking Aid, which provides an on-screen visual representation and audible warning of obstacles to the side of the vehicle, as well as to the front and rear.

Control climate and more with voice commands

The SYNC 2 system enables drivers to control key in-car systems using simple, natural voice commands and a high-resolution eight inch colour touch screen. Connectivity is delivered via Bluetooth, USB and SD card ports.

Simply pushing the voice control button and saying "I'm hungry" will display a list of local restaurants, and the MICHELIN guide can help drivers choose where to eat. SYNC 2 will then connect users by phone to the restaurant to book a table and guide them there.

Entering a navigation address is also simplified. Rather than reciting the address in stages, users can say the full address at once, and can select music from a connected MP3 device by asking SYNC 2 to play an artist or track. Cover art is also displayed on screen with compatible players.

Customers can place hands-free phone calls with the command "Call <name>", without first having to give the command "phone", while the system is in audio, navigation or another mode.

SYNC 2 also features Ford's Emergency Assistance, which directly connects the vehicle occupants to local emergency services operators after an accident, in the correct language for the region.

"We have developed SYNC 2 so it is simple and intuitive for drivers to use, and it seamlessly switches between touch screen and voice commands," said Christof Kellerwessel, chief engineer, Electronic and Electrical Systems Engineering, Ford of Europe. "Drivers will be able to controlmore in-car systems than ever before, while keeping their eyes on the road and their hands on the wheel."

Mondeo drivers can also control interior climate using voice commands including: "Max AC" to cool down quickly, or more specific commands such as: "Temperature 20 degrees".

The all-new Mondeo's heating, ventilation and air conditioning system has been fine-tuned for quieter operation. The system also helps optimise interior comfort with automatic climate control to maintain less than one degree variation even in extreme climates, and adaptive fans that maintain a constant airflow as vehicle speed changes. Rear cabin occupants benefit from dedicated air-vents.

In addition, the all-new Mondeo features an air-quality sensor that automatically switches on air recirculation when pollution is detected, and a humidity sensor that enables pre-emptive measures against flash-fogging of window interiors. Cooling from 55deg C to 18deg C in 15 minutes is best in class.

Hamworthy Rec 3 Weymouth Res 2

REC kept up the pressure on leaders Merley Cobham Sports with this hard fought against a battling Weymouth side. Sam Purdy opened for the hosts in the 11th minute, but Jamie Beasley equalised for the visitors just after half time.

Dom Falco restored the home sides lead on the hour, and Luke Stone further increased the lead the 67th minute. However Weymouth kept plugging away and Luke Chatterton pulled a goal back 11 minutes from time.One sour note was the 55th minutes straight red cards for Recs Richie Sands and Weymouth's Sam Nicholls for violent conduct.

Sturminster Marshall 0 Portland United 4

THE Islanders also kept up the pressure at the top with this win. However it took four second half goals to finally dispatch their lowly hosts. Lewis Whyton opened the scoring with 25 minutes left before Adam Linaker struck twice in the 73rd and 77thminutes.

Charlie May capped of a good days work with the fourth in the final minutes of the game.

Division Two

IN a local derby, Chickerell United Reserves visited Portesham and won 4-1, Andy Southern the scorer for the hosts.

Division Three

PORTLAND Town Reserves went down 5-1 at home to second placed Wool and Winfrith with Alex Counter an target for Portland.

Tisbury played host to second bottom Maiden Newton and Cattistock and took all three points with a 3-1 victory, whilst Stalbridge were 4-2 winners over their visitors Sturminster Newton Reserves.

Division Four

OWERMOIGNE remain third with their 3-0 home win against Corfe Mullen United Reserves.

South Cheriton United Reserves leapfrogged Portland Town A after beating them 2-0 whilst bottom side Kangaroos reserves went down 4-5 at home to Broadstone Reserves.

Division Five

THE New Windowman remain top of Division 5 and maintained their 100 per cent record after beating their hosts Okeford United Reserves 4-0.

Bottom side Portland Town B went down 7-0 at Marnhull, whilst a Charlie Allen hat-trick ensured UFC Poundbury took all three points from their away visit to Lychette and Upton RT.

Weymouth Golf Club

Welch gets regional call-up

■ JON WELCH: Selected for the South West team

WEYMOUTH Golf Club's Jon Welch has been chosen to represent the South West of England in the annual one off match against the Midlands.

The 25-year old is pleased to be selected particularly as he was picked to play last year by the SW Captain Giles Legg but due to a back injury was unable to compete.

The match takes place at the Robin Hood's challenging parkland course in Solihull West Midlands this Friday (October 17th) where he will play in an foursomes and singles match both over 18 holes.

Welch who has been the club champion three times and a former Under 21 county champion, will join fellow golfer Tom Leach from Ferndown GC as the only two Dorset players in the ten man team.

Competition results

Gary Cuff produced the round of the weekend with a 72 gross (nett 66) to pip Ollie Bennett on the back nine in Division 1. John Stevens continued his good form after winning the Kenny Lynch Fourball last week by claiming third place with a nett 67.

Division 2 was won by Eddie Waring with a nett 68, one shot better than Paul Durkin and Baz Wyatt who finished in second and third places, respectively. A fine performance by George Davidson with a nett 66 saw off everyone in Division 3. He won by two shots from Jim Mockford and Brian Walden The shot of the weekend came on the 8th hole on Sunday where Martin Pering had a hole-in-one!

The Kenny Lynch Trophy was won by Nick Preston and John Stevens with 43 points after count back.

The Graham Butler Foursomes was won by Andy and Tom Robson with an impressive two rounds of 68 at Ferndown GC.

Finals Day results:

Hope and Keen: R Mabb v P Corrick (won); Poteoues men's H/cap: I Lavender.v M Doyle (1 up); Talbot Cup.Knockout: KGrimshaw v A Iannonne (2&1); Groves Club Foursomes: G Hayes / A Chambers v P Shaw / D.Stunt (6&4); Seniors Knockout: D Pickton v I Walton (19th): Overhill Mixed: M.& P.Lee v D.& G Grant (4&3); Junior H/cap Knockout L Maddison v B Tyrell (4&3);

Not much fun as Cowboys are crushed by Jesters

Exmouth Jesters A 103
Weymouth Cowboys 49

WEYMOUTH Cowboys faced their first game of the season away from home with a crushing defeat. The game started off with Jesters scoring three unanswered baskets, before Cowboy's hit back with Kyle Houlden and MVP Andy Steel getting some point on the board. However it wasn't enough to slow the Jesters down and they passed their way through the Weymouth defence to take a large lead of 46-21 by the end the first half.

They started the second half in the same way and despite Simon Dean and Steel creating offense for Weymouth to try and get back into the game, the Jesters hit hard and carried on building on their lead, finishing as strong as they started to win 103-49.

Coach Connor Doherty said: "It was a hard first game of the season to be defeated like that, but we have positives to build from. We're going to find some tough matchups in Division 1, but I'm hopeful the lads will stay determined and show through."

Roster/Scorers: Andy Steel 14, Simon Dean 10, Kyle Houlden 8, Tommy Hodson 8, Alex Legg 4, Rob Legg 2, Joe Southcott 2, Alex Mills, Stephen Reece.

Bandits win through as Broadclyst fire blanks

Weymouth Mission Fitness Bandits 58 - Broadclyst Bullets 30

AFTER a high flying start to the season, Weymouth wanted to continue the strong tempo against their suspected weaker opponents.

As the first quarter got under way, both teams were matching point for point with Bandits Mike Willemse scoring the first 6 points, but the Bullets kept themselves close to the home side with some tactical offensive plays and finishing the quarter 10-10.

Weymouth struggled to do anything right in the second quarter. Shots wouldn't fall and previous top scorer Craig Sorrell got into serious foul trouble and was forced to the bench. With the Bandits failing to find the momentum they needed to continue being dominant, Broadclyst led 23-19 at half time.

After some serious half time talk from coach Fuhrmann, Weymouth began the second half with more determination and structure, making it difficult for the Bullets to break through the strong defence. Court captain Liam Wyatt hit a huge three pointer and MVP Vitoldas Balciunas scored back to back buckets to get the Bandits back on track to end the third quarter leading 34-30.

The last quarter proved to be Weymouth's strongest, breaking through Broadclyst's defence with ease and preventing the tired visitors from getting inside the paint for easy baskets, thus forcing them to take difficult outside shots under pressure. The Bandits scored 24 points without reply in the final quarter with the points shared between all the team, to end the game with a respectable 58-30 win.

The Bandits were due to travel to last year's league winners Exeter University 1st's last Monday, hoping to continue the win streak and pose a threat to the rest of the league.

Scores: Vitoldas Balciunas 13, Craig Sorrell 11, Mike Willemse 9, Jake Kinder 7, Carl Carter 4, Joel Franks 4, Jim De Bertrand 4, Liam Wyatt 3, Andy Steel 2, Chris Canham 1.

Beaminster Hockey

Amazing effort by nine-man Beaminster

Salisbury 4th 1 Beaminster 0

TRAVELLING to Salisbury with ten players, Beaminster were rocked on arrival to find that due to a administration miscommunication they would have to volunteer a player to help umpire the match or forfeit the game and receive a 5-0 penalty.

Despite therefore having nine players throughout, it was Beaminster that made all the running, taking the ball to Salisbury and putting them under pressure from the off. This continued throughout the entire game with player of the match Jenny Clarke doing some fantastic pick-ups outside the Beaminster D.

With Phoebe Stewart doing some great runs up front along with Hollie Clarke, they are beginning to make a good pairing. Sadly with just ten minutes to go Salisbury broke through and managed to score the all important goal.

However despite the lack of numbers, every Beaminster player gave an outstanding performance; one of which they could be proud of.

Beaminster: Lisa Condliffe; Jenny Clarke; Georgina Simmons; Genna Bunker; Taryn Critchard;

Kemp adds two more to squad

DORCHESTER Town's manager Graham Kemp has added another two new players to his squad.

On Thursday he announced the arrival of former Southampton and Bolton Wanderers midfielder Andy Robinson who made an immediate impact by scoring the only goal of the game against Hendon on Saturday in his debut, that set up a money spinning home tie against Conference Premier side Bristol Rovers in the fourth qualifying round of the FA Cup on Saturday week.

Robinson was released by the Saints in the summer and joined the Trotters for a brief three week period before leaving after he was told he was not expected to feature in the future.

Having moved back to the Bournemouth area, it was the 21-year old that contacted Kemp to see if he could join on non-contract terms and play some games.

Kemp said: "He just wants to play and we can offer him that. He is about as good as you could get at this stage of the season for someone who is not cup-tied so it suits both parties, and we will see how things go over the next few weeks.

My style of management can be good to get the enjoyment back for people and we just felt that short or long-term it could work out well."

Kemp has also added former Bashley and Gosport Borough striker Jack Odam on non-contract terms.

Kemp is aware how fast the 19-year old is when he played against the manager's former team Hamworthy United pre-season.

"He is an off-the-shoulder striker who loves to run the channels and he ran us ragged."

A view on the Bees

BY STUART BROOM

Ressies safely through

Bridport Reserves 3
Wimborne Town Reserves 0
Dorset Premier League

IN A STRANGE match that turned on the referee having to be replaced at halftime, Bridport Reserves safely reached the second round of the Dorset Senior Trophy.

With the game scoreless at halftime and finely balanced the referee had to withdraw due to a hamstring injury. With the home side obligated to provide a replacement official, Bees goalkeeping coach Shaun Annetts, a qualified referee took the whistle.

For some reason the young visitors who given a good account of themselves in the first half, for some reason took umbrage at his appointment and not only queried a number of decisions but also changed from a slick unit to one intent at dishing out physical retribution, and at one stage threatened to leave the field.

Bees manager Robin Townsend said: "I think they believed that Shaun was bias towards us because of his connection, but in fact I think like in most situations like this, he erred more on Wimborne's side in 50/50 situations just to ensure he was seen to be fair,. They however got hung up on this and resorted to heavy hand tactics which played into our hands. Up until halftime they had looked very capable, although we had a couple of good chances to have been ahead at the break."

Bridport didn't start well, and had to thank the defence, in which Dan Baggs was outstanding, for keeping Wimborne at bay.

"Dan won every header in the box and with excellent organisation and talking from Chris Herbst and Jamie Fry we didn't really look in too much trouble."

Bridport improved in the second half and with Wimborne's attitude not helping them, the Bees dominated and took the lead on 53 minutes when Baggs brilliantly headed home Russell Legg's inch perfect cross.

A slick move between Harry Fleet, Gary Bulman and Ben Clarke ended with Bulman firing home a second midway through the half before substitute Ashley Walkey fired home a 25 yard shot that moved in the air to beat the keeper with a few minutes left.

Puddletown Rugby

Rocky has a stormer

Puddletown 31
Wimborne 3rd 18

PUDDLETOWN entertained the "men in black" at Greenfields, both sides having had differing fortunes in the cup the week before; Puddletown having lost to Poole and Wimborne whilst Wimborne comfortably beat North Dorset.

The first half was tight affair, with both sides applying pressure in midfield and being cancelled out by strong defending. Wimborne took the lead from a penalty after the hosts had been penalised for holding on in a ruck, before a Puddletown scrum on halfway produced good ball passed through the backs to reach debutant winger Zak Westall, who showed good pace but was well tackled just short of the line.

Only good work by Matt "Rocky" Watts, stealing the ball in a ruck and offloading to fullback Ben Spinney who put in an excellent clearing kick prevented the visitors increasing the lead, but just before halftime Wimborne recycled a ball that failed to find touch and Ade Turner scored an unconverted try in the corner.

The second half started as the first had finished, with Wimborne applying pressure in the Pudddletown half, and they were awarded a penalty in front of the posts which was converted to lead 0-11.

Replacement Puddletown full back Marcus House made an instant impact, returning a loose Wimborne kick by chipping through and gathering the ball before off-loaded to flanker Watts 10m out to score with captain Tom Yeatman kicking the conversion.

Lively scrum half Dave Farrell then showed pace and tenacity in midfield, breaking several tackles before being stopped 2m from the visitors try line, but Watts was on hand again to take the off-load and score the try which was unconverted.

With the game finely balanced and both teams feeling the pressure, loose play saw Puddletown spill the ball on their 10m line allowing Wimborne to kick through into the corner where they scored a converted try to lead 12-18.

Puddletown replied immediately and from the resultant ruck following good interplay between backs and forwards on the Wimborne 22, No. 8 James "Jumbo" Perrett, drove through the middle of the defence to score an unconverted try.

Puddletown now seemed to be breaking into their stride, with forwards and backs involved in retaining possession and recycling the ball. Five phases of rucks pulled the Wimborne defence from one side to the other, the ball went back down the line with Puddletown second row John Perrett, making the most of the depleted Wimborne back line to break through and score a try. Tom Yeatman converted, 24-18.

Wimborne came back from the kick off and again drove towards the Puddletown line where stout defending and strong tackling repelled the onslaught, prop Carl Perrett doing some good work on the floor to turnover the ball from Wimborne, 5m out in front of the posts before Yeatman cleared with a kick upfield. A Wimborne line-out on halfway saw Puddletown smuggle the ball back and drive through the middle into the Wimborne 2, and although there was a hint of a Puddletown "knock on" not seen by the referee, play continued and Jez Beale barrelled through to score under the posts. Yeatman converted to make the final score 31-18.

Magpies conjure point from nothing

Dorchester Town 3 Bideford 3

WHEN Matt Oldring scored a minute from time it looked no more than a consolation following a woeful display from a Dorchester Town side that never looked anything other than second best at The Avenue last week.

Bideford who let slip a 3-1 lead at home to Hereford three days earlier never looked likely to repeat it having built a three goal first half cushion and squandered a number of opportunities after the break to have doubled their score.

True the Magpies improved after the interval, but the Bideford defence in general never gave them a clear shot at goal until the 89th minute.

The goal came courtesy of an unnecessary corner conceded by a wild swing at the ball by Matt Villas that sliced off his boot.

Dan Smith's resultant corner found Nick Crittenden beyond the far post who controlled the ball before driving it low into the goalmouth where sub Oldring was on hand to touch it over the line.

Despite the goal, it appeared insignificant as the match went into added time, but a good team move down the left saw debutants Josh Kaye on loan from AFC Bournemouth play in new signing Ryan Murray from Gillingham, although his quick cross from near the byeline evaded everyone. However the unmarked Crittenden retrieved the ball from behind him 12 yards out and turned to fire under the advancing Robins keeper Grant Fisher and past defenders stood on the line.

Buoyed by this success and the possibility of maybe getting a draw, Dorchester stepped up their game and pushed forward. Then in the third of four added minutes, Murray's cross was headed clear by Sean Downing to third sub Alex Godfrey who neatly controlled it 20 yards from goal and hit a superb volley with the outside of his right boot that looped inside Fisher's left hand post for the equaliser.

The players, management and fans went mad at having retrieved a point from a hopeless case.

Both sides started the game with near misses, but it was the visitors that took the lead on 16 minutes when both Nathan Walker and Downing both missed Craig Veal's long throw into the penalty area, and although Magpies keeper Alan Walker-Harris got both hands to Ben Wood's vicious volley he couldn't stop it going in via the upright.

Almost immediately Sam Lanahan set up Crittenden but his shot was blocked by Wood. However it was Bideford that took control and Richard Groves went close with a 30 yard drive before Wood followed suit. They doubled their lead on the half hour when full back Simon Brookes was caught stranded upfield. Veal exploited this by leaving Walker for dead with his speed down the left before crossing to Downing. His shot was well saved by Walker-Harris but the ball rebounded to Wood whom scored from close range.

Mickey Hubbard had a great chance to pull a goal back on 37 minutes when the ball was deflected into his path, but his weak sidefooted shot was straight at Fisher.

Bideford increased the pressure as Dorchester's defence were run ragged and Walker-Harris saved from Veal, pushed away a hard cross shot from Niall Thompson and then saved with his legs from Veal after Downing intercepted Jake Smeeton's crossfield ball and fed the striker as he raced through.

They couldn't hold out however and in added time they conceded a third. Diabolical defending by Brookes saw Downing inside out inside the penalty area and he clumsily brought him to ground and Groves expertly scored from the spot.

With nothing to lose Dorchester showed more resolve after the break, but Fisher was rarely tested, however Walker-Harris was. He turned away a terrific Volley for Wood before Danny Wring curled a shot that drifted just beyond the far post.

Ben Joyce had a shot blocked and Smith fired just over the bar after beating two players before bringing a super save from Fisher who turned his shot away for a corner.

It looked a foregone conclusion until the final frantic minutes but it didn't gloss over the Magpies failings.

Manager Graham Kemp admitted that their display was disappointing and not good enough.

"I was very disappointed. Aside from the last few minutes we weren't at the races and I'm at a loss as to why we can put in such an inept performance after how well we played on Saturday.

"There were no whoops and cheers in the dressing room after; they all know what an inept performance they put in; we got out of jail really, and I used up one of my nine lives."

Although the Magpies scored three goals in five minutes, the county town boss was realistic and admitted his charges looked tired, jaded and devoid of ideas. "It papered over the cracks."

Blues crushed by Salisbury

Salisbury 2nd 62 Bridport 0

LEAGUE leaders Salisbury 2nd's were far too strong for Bridport on Saturday who despite trailing were still competitive until ten minutes after halftime when lack of substitutes began to tell.

Bridport's defence was sound in the first half with Dave Cutting again excellent, but they had little to offer in attack against a well organised Salisbury side, with the forwards reliable in the set pieces, but too often second best at the break down.

On a positive note, there was a promising debut for xxxxx, albeit mainly in defence.

Bridport's will be looking to bounce back from this defeat when the face Swanage and Wareham at the Brewery Field this Saturday, and with still lying third in the league, there is still everything to play for.

Under 14s
Bridport 37 Exeter Chiefs 10

WHERE London Irish failed in the Aviva Premiership, the young Blues succeeded, by beating Exeter Chiefs Under 14's!

Bridport started positively and kept the scoreboard ticking over throughout the game. The forwards didn't have it all their own way in the set pieces, however their perseverance paid dividends from which the backs could show their superiority. The forwards still need to work on distributing the ball to the backs as the backs are gelling together into a potent attacking force.

Good work in the first half saw Bridport turn around at the break without the Chiefs having scored. Unfortunately the Blues didn't get back into the game at the start of the second half as quickly as Exeter, which allowed the visitors to score two unconverted tries.

With a hat-trick of tries from Toby Taylor and further scores from Sam Roberts-Wray, Joe O'Hagan, Guy Brazier and Henry Knight and extras added by O'Hagan, Bridport ran out worthy winners.

Under12s
Bridport 70 Crewkerne 0

IT'S A GOOD sign that the U12's back line is turning the hard yards of the forwards into points where despite scoring nine tries, only two came from the forwards.

Unfortunately Crewkerne could only muster eight players so with some Bridport players donning Crewkerne shirts they played 10 a-side with uncontested scrums. It took a while for the Blues to dominate the game, with the first try taking a good 10 minutes, scored by man of the match Seth Furner. Although substituted he put in a great effort to establish the early ball. From this try the backs ran in another eight scored by Toby Every, Sam Smith (2), Reuben Jolliffe (2) and three from winger Finlay Shoemark, with the last try by forward Blake Davis. All ten were converted by Jolliffe.

West Dorset hockey

West Dorset continue to dominate as Mearing goes nap

ONCE again both West Dorset teams recorded excellent victories to keep themselves at the top of their respective divisions.

The Hawks continue to lead Southern Division 2 after Steve Mearing scored all five in their comprehensive victory over Camborne SoM who were relegated last year, whilst West Dorset A, promoted to South East Division 2 this season beat Bridgwater C who were promoted with them as champions.

West Dorset see off young guns

West Dorset Hawks 5
Camborne School of Miners 2

CAMBORNE might have expected to turn up 30 minutes late as this was the first ever meeting of these two sides, but perhaps they wish they had lost their way as West Dorset Hawks, despite finishing with two injured players saw them return to Cornwall pointless.

The hosts were almost at full strength, only missing captain Rick Dormor and Lee Connolly who umpired, but were anxious about playing a university team with an average age of 20, compared to the more seasoned Hawks average of 36.

Nevertheless it was the Hawks who completely dominated from the whistle for the first 15 minutes, pinning Camborne in their own half, and took advantage with two goals from Steve Mearing.

The visitors finally shrugged off their lethargy after a three hour drive and hit back to equalise approaching halftime. It looked like youth would prevail as injuries to both Julian May (hamstring) and Steve Thompson (calf muscle) saw them handicapped but having to carry on with no substitutes available, but Hawks were buoyed as Mearing converted a short corner to put them back in the lead on the stroke of halftime.

The second half was tough, but Charlie Davies was a hero with tackle after tackle. However despite Richard Puzey being yellow carded for a last ditch tackle and two crippled players, the Hawks hung on.

With the Camborne attack running out of steam, Alex Davies came to the fore, causing carnage in the visitors defence as he attacked down the right wing and winning two more short corners from which Mearing duly converted one. With the Hawks now in their stride they pinned Camborne in their own half and eventually Mearing found a chink in their defence to complete a nap hand with a fifth goal.

West Dorset Hawks: Lowe, May, A Davies, C Davies, Brooking, Bowditch, Puzey, Mearing, Thompson, Wyatt. Umpires Mike Harvey and Lee Connolly.

The A team beat the odds

Bridgwater C 1 West Dorset A 2

NOT only were West Dorset A playing the side that were promoted as champions with them last season, but they travelled with only ten men due to player availability.

With Bruce Maltby nursing a cut head after being hit by a flying ball in the warm up, the situation worsened further when their hosts took the lead in the first minute following a short corner routine as the visitors struggled to clear the ball to safety. However, West Dorset A did not appear to be unsettled by this early setback as from the restart they began to take control of the possession with Rob Cox and Alex Drew in midfield linking well with the wingers, Bob Dormer and Rick Steele who were causing problems whenever they attacked Bridgwater's goal. Most of the game was being played in Bridgwater's half with the visitors creating the better scoring chances, almost drawing level after 10 minutes when a shot from John Kellas struck the top of the goal frame. Bridgwater were occasionally posing a threat but it was no surprise when West Dorset scored just before halftime when Steele worked his way to the goal line before crossing to Kellas who was able to convert after his first shot was saved. This was no more than the visitors deserved despite being a man short, prompting skipper Henry Middleton's call for, "more of the same please".

Bridgwater started the second half brightly but the well organised defence of Middleton, Maltby, Matt Caton and Rich Wilson blunted most of their attacks and as the half wore on it was West Dorset who were getting on top and looking the more likely to score.

Poor finishing and some excellent saves from the Bridgwater goalkeeper kept the visitors at bay but as the game entered the final 10 minutes West Dorset finally took the lead their play deserved. Dormer beat a number of players in a mazy run from halfway before-finding an unmarked Kellas who scored with a neat finish from close range. West Dorset created further chances to extend their lead which were not converted and they were almost punished for this as Bridgwater piled on the pressure at the end, winning a number of short corners in the closing stages. They almost scored with one shot coming back off a post, but some resilient last ditch defending and keeper Lee Herrod making some fine saves enabled them to hold on for the win to stay top of South East 2.

Middleton said: "To come to Bridgwater and win with just 10 players is a fantastic achievement. We didn't panic after the early setback and stuck to our game plan, playing some excellent hockey with every single player playing their part in a great team performance."

Berlin and Bournemouth complete the B Series

BRIDPORT Runners completed their "B series" of races in Berlin and Bournemouth.

The unofficial series of running events over the year which all start with the letter "B" began with the Blackmore Vale Half Marathon and the club's own Bridport Jurassic Coast run.

The prestigious 41. Berlin Marathon and Bournemouth Marathon Festival last weekend completed the quartet.

Six runners travelled to Berlin which saw more than 1m spectators along the streets of the German capital, and they and many more TV and internet viewers witnessed a new world record by Kenyan champion Dennis Kimetto in 2:02:57.

Fastest of the Bridport Runners once again was Ben Renshaw, who conquered the 26.2 mile long distance in 2:43:10, finishing a very creditable 236th out of nearly 29,000 finishers on the day, and 49 seconds faster than his time in the London Marathon in April.

Second Bridport runners home was Kazy Vincent-Janes in 3:49:18, which was 3 minutes faster than her last race in the Bournemouth Marathon last year. Hagen Gerle crossed the finishing line behind the Brandenburger Tor in his first marathon in 4:03:09, followed by Vicky Ackerman in 4:06:32; cutting off more than half an hour from her first marathon time in Bournemouth.

Brian Shelley in his 11th marathon, and son Dan who had already run the New York Marathon together, both finished in 4:12:10.

A week later, four Bridport Runners competed in the half-marathon and the 10k races as part of the Bournemouth Marathon Festival. Three of them, Sarah Courtney-Hughes, Karen Cox and Debbie Gale, had only finished their Beginners Class "From Couch to 5K" a couple of months ago, and finished in very respectful times; Courtney-Hughes completing the half-marathon in 1:56 and Cox and Gale the 10K in 1:02.

Commenting on the variety and challenges of the different races in the B series, Bridport Runners' Chair Brian Shelley said: "In participating in races over multiple distances and for runners of different abilities we have shown that it is possible to start this wonderful hobby from scratch and improve through constant training."

Robinson stunner sees Magpies through

Dorchester Town 1 Hendon 0
FA Cup 3rd Qualifying Round

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemedia.co.uk

ANDY Robinson certainly made his mark on his debut for Dorchester Town by scoring the only goal of the game on Saturday that sees the Magpies in the hat for the 4th and final qualifying round of the FA Cup.

The former Southampton and Bolton Wanderers midfielder only met his teammates at training on Thursday having signed non-contract terms earlier that day, but he showed cool thinking and precision shooting just after the hour in what was a hard fought game that could have gone either way.

Hendon had a shout for a penalty for a foul by acting skipper Jake Smeeton on Aaron Morgan quite rightly turned down by referee Adam Ricketts early on, before the Green's central defender Elliott Braithwaite could have put his side ahead on 11 minutes but glanced his header from a corner wide. Dan Smith retaliated with an angled shot that was straight at keeper Ben McNamara.

The London side showed why they have only lost two games this season and sit third in the Isthmian Premier Division, confidently playing the ball out of defence and making space well, and for the first quarter of the game were the more fluent side.

Dorchester had their own claim for a penalty turned down on 37 minutes but once again the ref was right when Dan Smith went down under the challenge of Sam Flegg.

The first real threat on goal came on in the 43rd minute when Braithwaite again got in a header from Sam Murphy's cross, but keeper Alan Walker-Harris saved at the base of the upright. Smeeton was on hand two minutes later to clear Chris Seeby's goalbound header from the other equally impressive full back Oliver Sprague.

Dorchester's first chance came in added time when McNamara made a hash of an easy catch from Robinson's free kick, maybe blinded by the sunlight, and Alex Godfrey was quickest to react to nod the ball over him but unfortunately off the top of the crossbar and over.

The Dorchester defence had coped well with Hendon's strike attack of Morgan and Leon Smith in the first half, but had to work harder after the break. Morgan turned Josh Kaye too easily to get his shot in but Walker-Harris saved, whilst at the other end Smith's speed caused problems when he turned inside the box, his shot was blocked by Flegg's leg.

The goal that decided the match however was superb. Robinson collected the ball just outside the box and switched the ball from his left to right foot, before curling the ball around McNamara's outstretched finger tips and just inside the far post.

Hendon continued to take the game to their host's but as a result were sometimes stretched at the back, and when Smith was played through he could have sealed the game but shot inches wide, before Leon Smith, looking to break a club record after scoring in eight consecutive games, slipped yards from goal after rounding Walker-Harris, allowing Smeeton to clear off as the ball rolled towards the line.

The record appeared to be playing on Smith's mind as he was offered opportunities, but he either lost his cool at the finish or was selfish with players in better situations.

Both sides tired in the last 15 minutes, but Dorchester hung on to progress with another £7,500 in their pocket for winning the tie.

Manager Graham Kemp was pleased with Robinson's contribution and the whole team's performance after their poor showing against Bideford.

Magpies get the Gas in FA Cup

DORCHESTER Town's reward for their hard fought victory over Hendon Town is a plum home tie with Bristol Rovers in the FA Cup 4th Qualifying Round on October 25th.

EXCITED: Magpies manager Graham Kemp

The Gas who were relegated from the Football League last season, have made a good start in regaining their status and currently lie fourth in the Conference Premier.

The Magpies were the first name pulled out of the famous red bag when the Southern Section draw was made by a member of the public live on TalkSport radio on Monday morning; a little bit of history making as it is the first time the public have been involved.

Manager Graham Kemp said: "I think Dorchester is going to go FA Cup crazy for the next couple of weeks.

"It's exciting and a great draw but we must keep focussed on the games before that, but obviously it's going to take a bit of sinking in and a bit of focus away from things. However the players and management need to concentrate and leave the arrangements to the committee, and we'll plan for it a bit nearer the time."
